memories of S.H.S.
we will never forget

High school holds different yet very special memories for each of us. That winning game, terrific solo, special date or grade on the final hold memories, either good or bad, that will not soon be forgotten. Your highlights of S.H.S. are those events which were the most important to you.

Although we each have our individual memories, we also share some with the entire class of 1985. We all remember praying for a parking permit, running late to a class, hoping to get to homeroom before 7:50, eating the cafeteria food, making up a gym class, attending assemblies, and listening to the morning announcements. These events may have been routine and taken for granted, but they were important during our high school years.

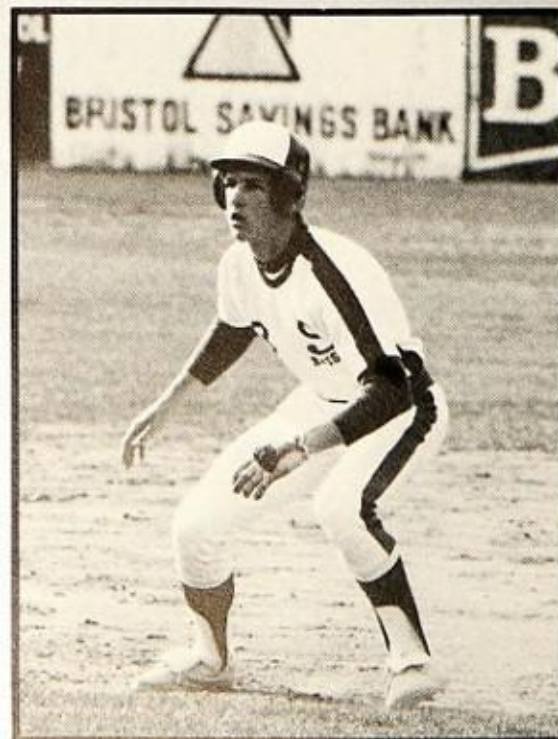

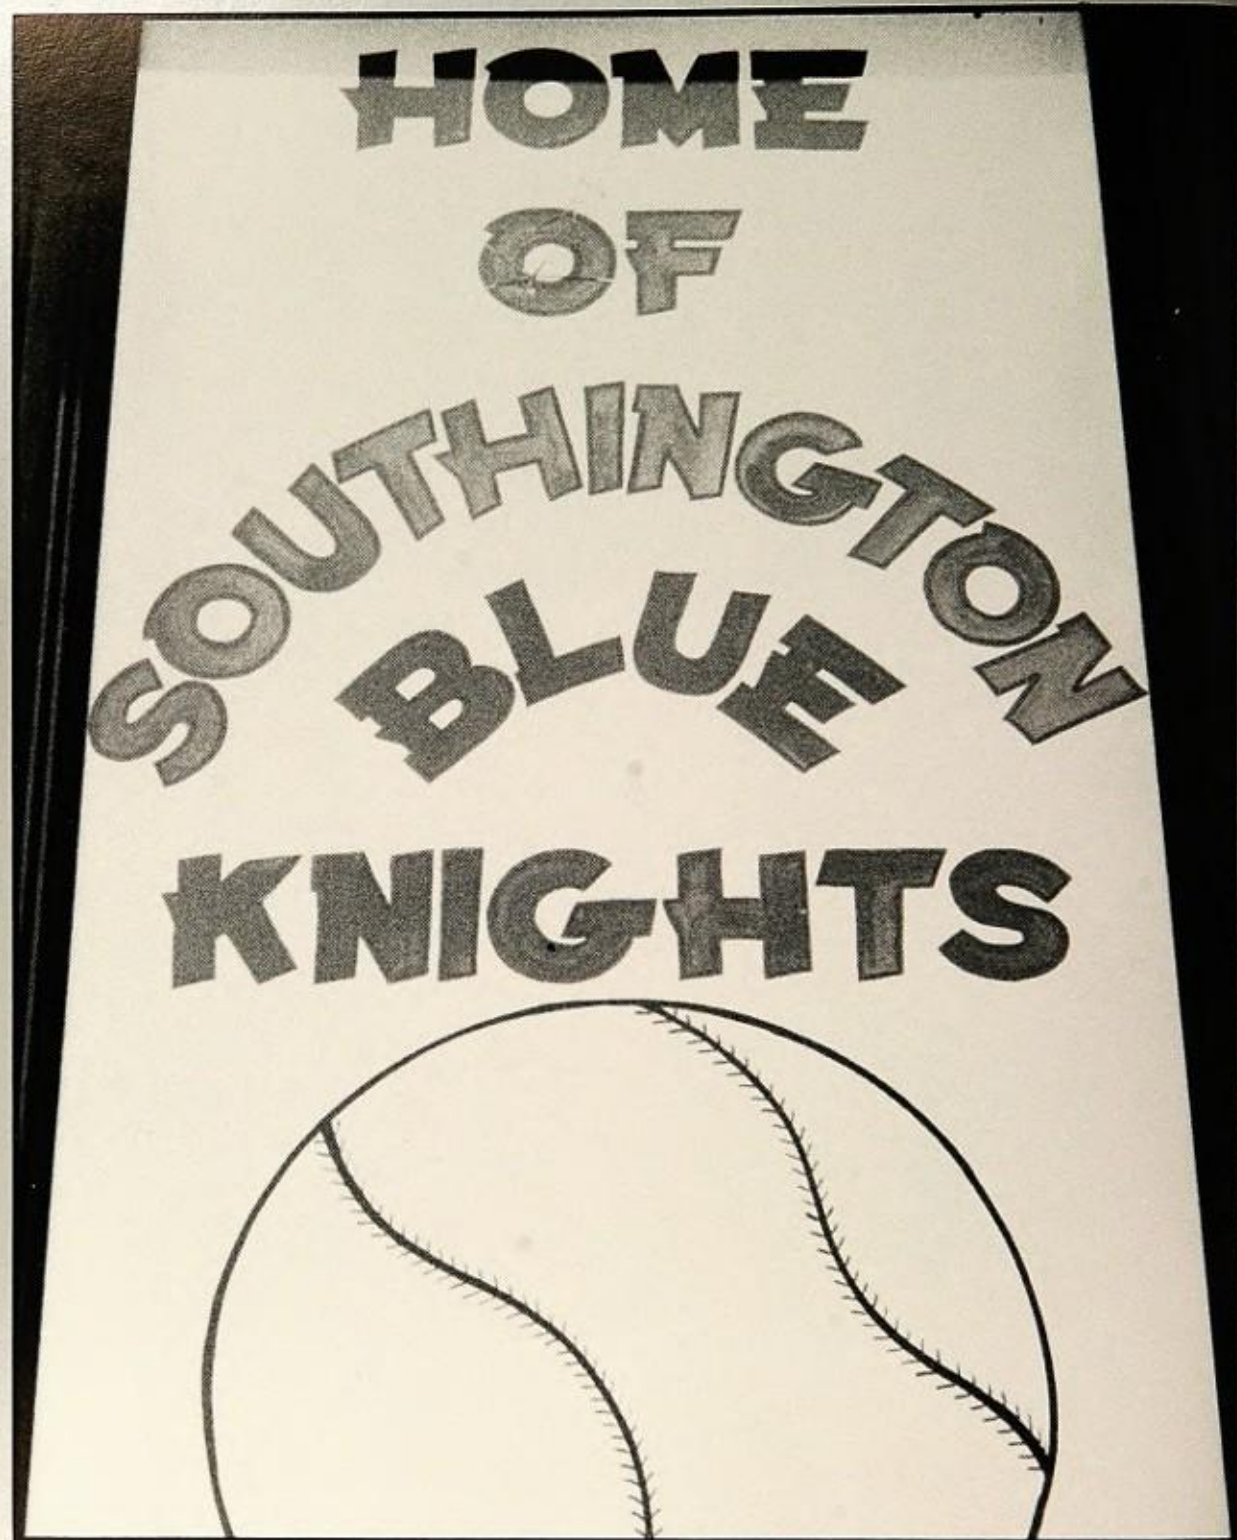

KNIGHTL

students display Blue Knight spirit

School spirit can be shown in a variety of ways. By becoming involved in sports, music, or extracurricular clubs, the class of 1985 showed enthusiasm and pride in their school. Those who could not participate in athletics helped the teams by cheering in the stands. Pep rallies were the ultimate display of school unity, with students screaming for teams as well as for their individual classes. As proven by all of the news coverage, Southington offered tough teams to beat. Whether watching or participating, we showed our Blue Knights spirit.

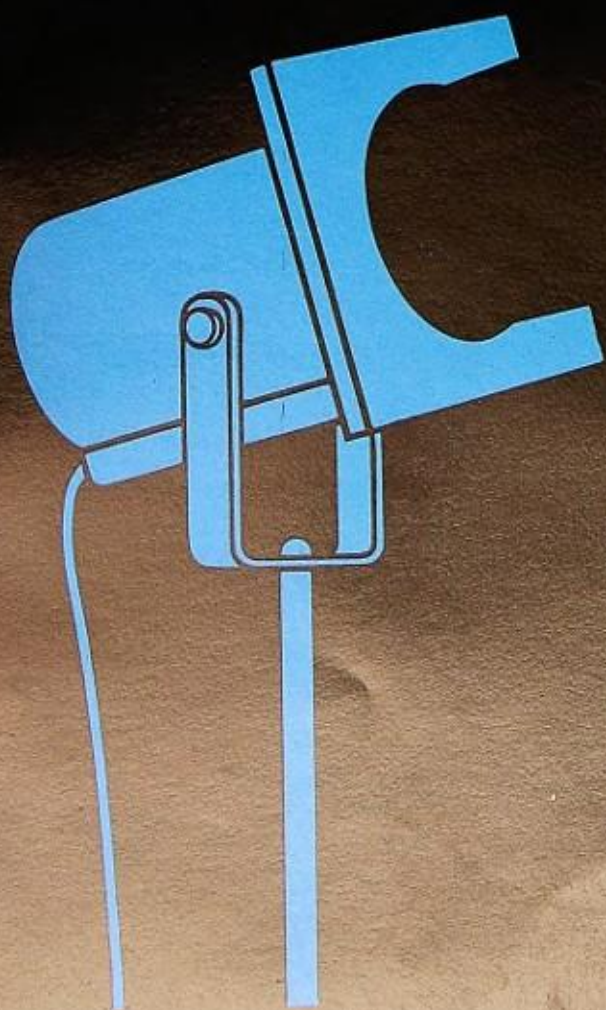

SPOTLIGHTS

who made
our class unique

The Class of 1985 is composed of a variety of students each person special in his own way. However, throughout the years at S.H.S., certain individuals possessing unique talents and attributes have shone above the rest. Collectively, these individuals have helped to make the class of 1985 a truly distinct and very special class. For their outstanding accomplishments and personal characteristics, many students have become respected by their fellow classmates and the faculty. Although each and every person has contributed in some way to the class of 1985, our spotlight here illuminates only a few of the many superb seniors who brightened our days in many ways.

FOOTLIGHTS

displayed before all

At S.H.S., the concept of hard work does not just apply to only the school day. This concept is extended to and greatly stressed in all extra-curricular activities. Whether it was marching band, chorus, drama presentations, or class productions, each activity required many hours of intensive practice and whole-hearted dedication from each participating member. The time arrived for us to display the results of such hard work and practice in games, competitions and shows. The many rewards that we received only enhanced our high spirits as we knew that we had done our best.

friendships which brightened our days

Friends, both old and new, lit up our lives at S.H.S. We couldn't have made it without them. Everyone needs a friend who will be there to share the good times as well as the bad. High school was a time when we started to discover what was important to us. As we changed, so did our friendships, becoming closer or farther apart. We have made important relationships with teachers, coaches, and guidance counselors as well. Many of the close friendships we have now will last throughout our lives.

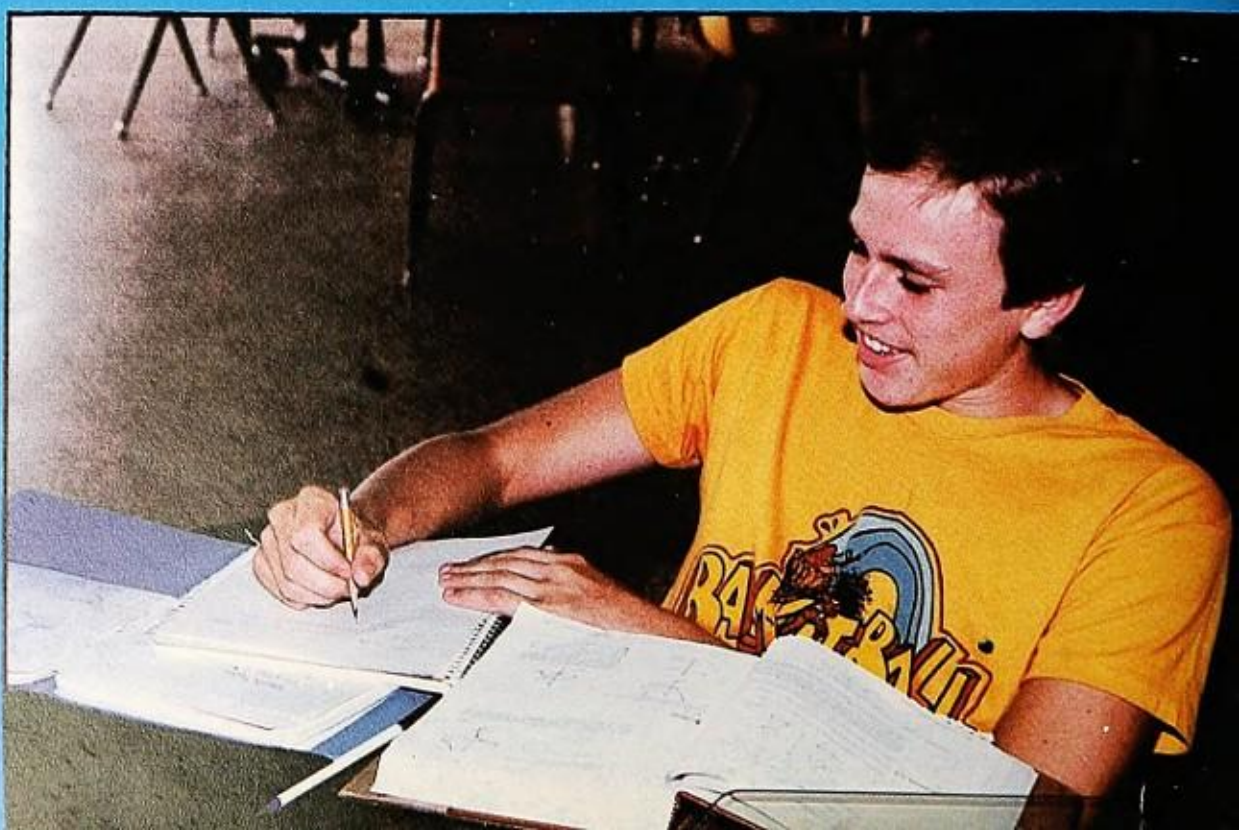

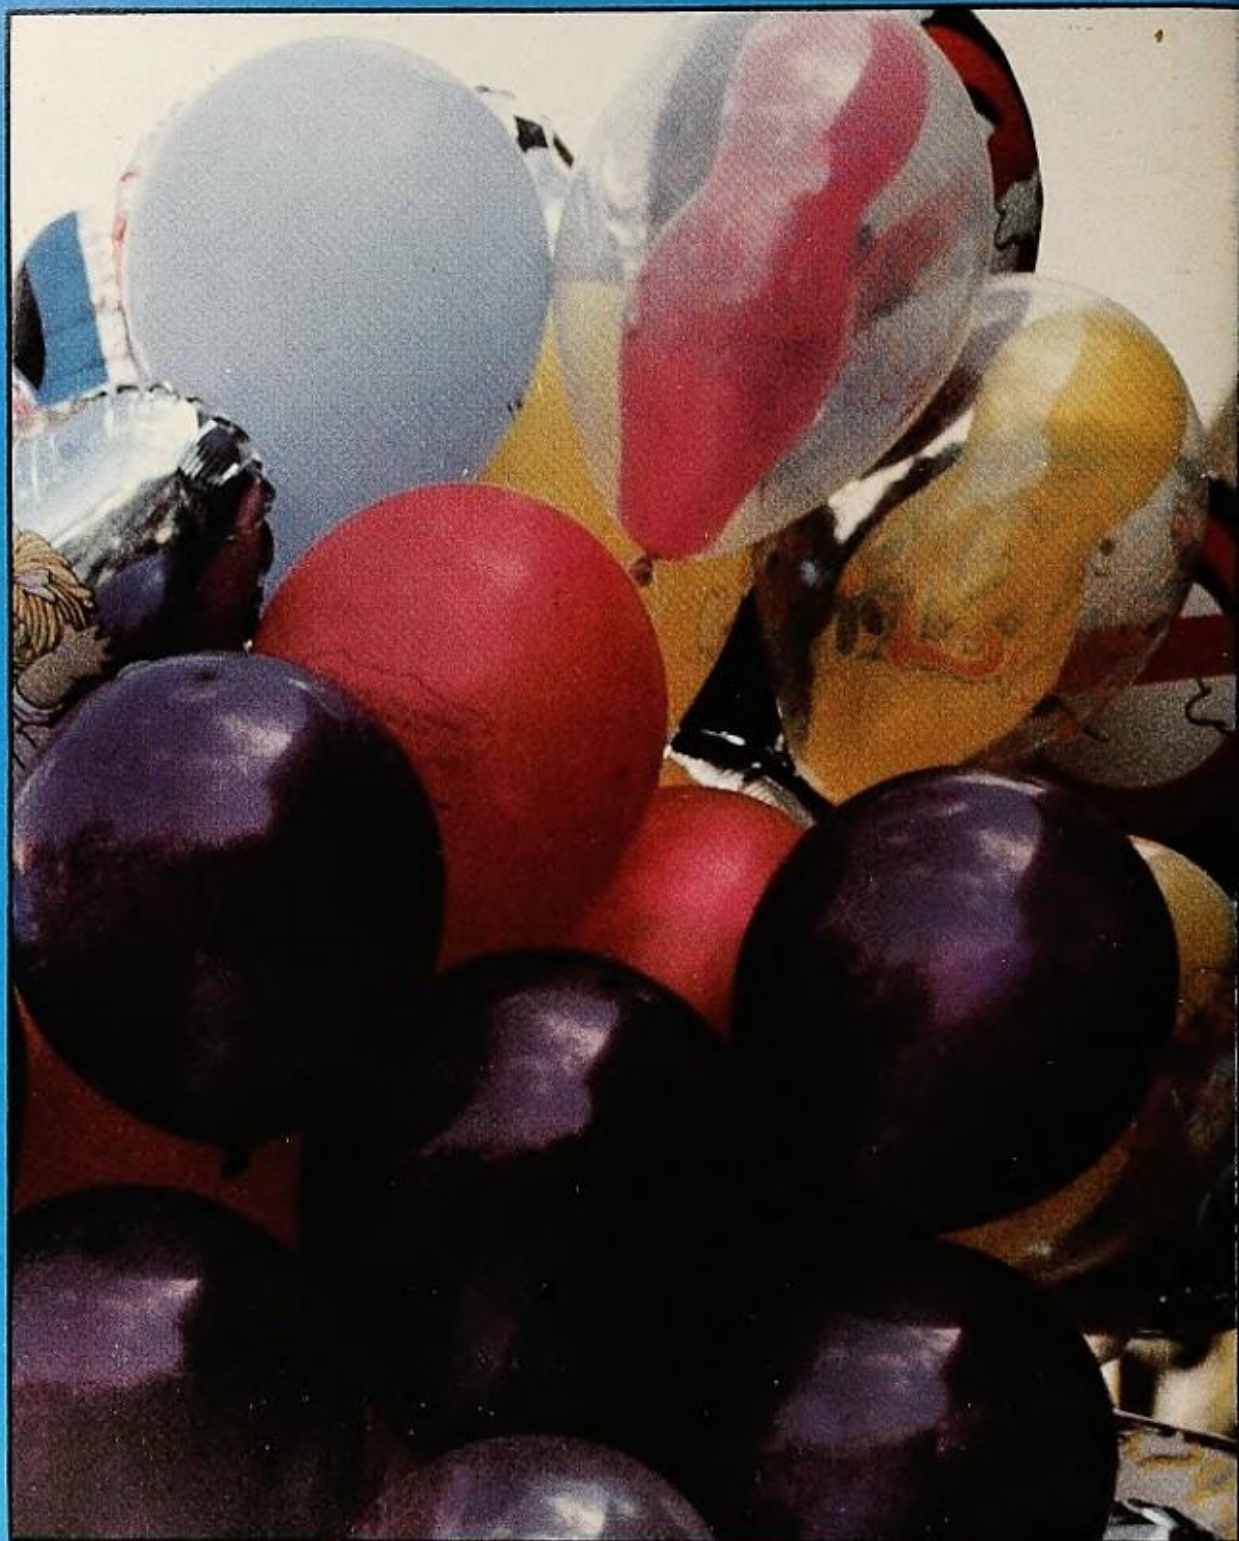

FLASHLIGHTS

our year was ending

It finally happened. We were seniors and throughout the year we let everyone know it. Strutting through the halls with that air of self-confidence and feeling of power, the seniors quickly established dominance. It seemed as if the feeling of seniority would last forever. However the year flew by with amazing speed, and this special year in our lives was coming to an end. Although the class of 1985 will follow many different paths in life, we will always share special memories of our years at S.H.S.

GUIDING

lasting impressions

The senior class of 1985 would like to thank three very special teachers - Miss Turner, Mr. Gary, and Miss Benjamin. Their dedication and hard work have made the class of 1985 unique and very successful. The achievement of our goals is due to their encouragement and faith in our abilities. But, most importantly, they've come into our lives and have been our friends. We extend to them our deepest thanks and gratitude for all that they've done.

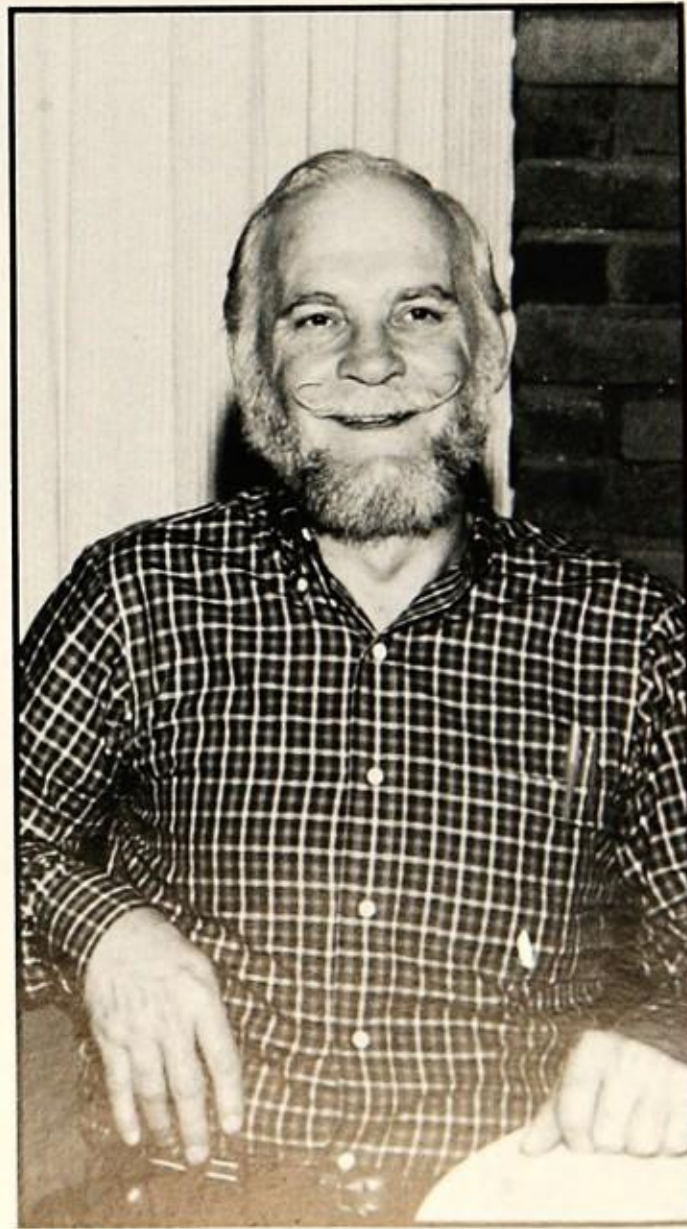

SPOTLIGHTING

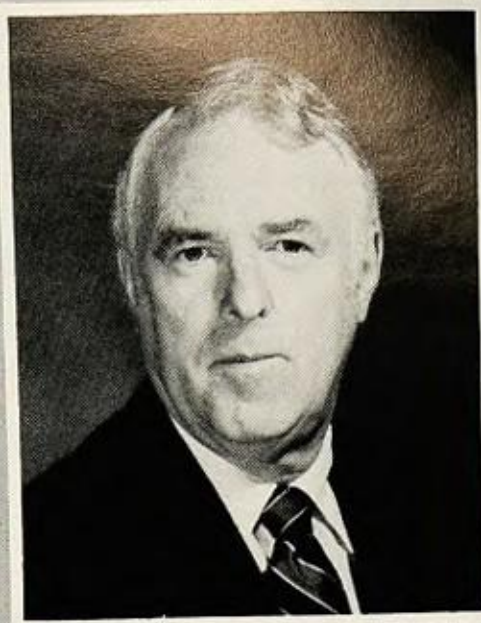

to fulfill dreams: the academic life

Most of our time at Southington High School is spent in classrooms studying the academics. Our academic life is one of the most important to our futures. In it we explore new worlds, test the strengths and weaknesses of our minds, and become more creative using our imagination to aspire to all the heights of success after high school. Each aspect of our days is vital from our study periods to our classes to the people who teach and guide us. The Academic life we lead is the pathway to our futures, making our dreams come true.

a day in the life: from dawn to dusk

Has anyone ever wondered what the teachers actually do all day long while they are not in their classes? The average teacher reports to school by 7:10 but no later than 7:30. Most teachers teach an average of 5 classes a day. They have one period for lunch, though most of it is spent on things other than eating. Their one preparation period is used running around trying to make up tests, use the copy machine, and correct papers (that's where the lunch period goes!) and the eighth period is a duty period in either the cafeteria, the library, 204, or even bus duty. There is an extra duty of after school detention for all teachers every other month. Teachers, also, have to go to in-service work shops four times yearly. Many teachers spend extra time advising clubs, coaching athletics, and chaperoning events.

Where do the teachers go for these lunch and prep. periods? To the "no student allowed" teachers' sanctuary of the Faculty rooms. Each teacher is given a cubicle in a room where he can smoke, get a can of soda from the machine, or just plain relax. The Faculty room is a place where teachers can "let out steam." What really goes on in these rooms the students will never truly know!

Finally the teachers leave at 2:35 and even earlier on Fridays. From dawn to (almost) dusk. What a day!

the fire of learning that burns within us

Students spend most of their high school careers facing the academe of Science, Math, English, Language, and Social Studies. The majority of the faculty members teach these courses in the Academic curriculum. Each of the individual academic departments offers a variety of choices to fill the requirements of S.H.S. The Science Department offers courses from Anatomy and Meteorology to Biology and Chemistry. The Math Department offers courses from Algebra and Geometry to Statistics and Calculus. In the English Department one can study courses ranging from Drama to Logic to Shakespeare to each level of standard English. In the Language Department one can study German, Latin, French, and Spanish. The Social Studies Department offers courses on a sundry of topics such as Geography, Sociology, China, and U.S. History.

Many students, though, do not realize that this academic curriculum provides a wide-ranged background needed for every day life and the basis for becoming a well-rounded individual. The student wishing to continue on to college must have the background necessary to meet entrance requirements that these courses provide. By indulging in the academics we are not only making our minds brighter but our futures as well.

reflections of creativity

For those students who drift toward the more imaginative and creative outlets in life, there are many creative opportunities in the Music and Art Departments. The Art Department offers a variety of ways to let off creative steam which builds up in the more straight-laced courses. Courses range from pottery to drawing and painting to design and photography, as well as advanced classes for the more serious artist.

The Music curriculum, too, allows an opening for creative flow from Mixed Chorus or Concert Choir to playing an instrument in the band either Concert, Marching, or Stage. For the more serious musician there is also an indepth Music Theory class.

Many of the other departments also provide creative outlets. The English Department offers Drama and Creative Writing for imaginative students to pursue. The Home Economics Department provides students with courses such as Creative Clothing. Creativity and imagination are encouraged in every department to be nurtured by the student even after he leaves high school. A creative mind is an active one!

a guiding light to break the darkness

When you're in a real bind in school where do you go? Well, the school provides a capable and helpful staff in a department very appropriately labeled Guidance. The Guidance counselors are a great source of information for course selection, college choice, career requirements and advice for personal problems. Essentially, Guidance is a service dedicated to help students "understand themselves and their opportunities, and to help them make decisions."

Other services are offered to aid students on the academic level. One example is the English Department's Writing Lab. Writing is essential and important in all aspects of life and this Lab is offered to help students improve their writing and communicating skills. If a student feels he needs this help or that he would learn more in a one-to-one teacher/student situation he voluntarily reports to the Writing Lab. The other academic aid offered to students is the Language Resource Center sponsored by the Language Department. The center, located in the library, offers a variety of resources for foreign language students. It is a drop in situation much like the Writing Lab and an alternative for the library or cafeteria during a study period.

a bright future: a pre-professional

Many pre-professional subjects are offered to students who wish to have job training before leaving high school. Pre-professional skills are important for life after high school in getting a job, preparing to meet college needs, and running a home.

The Business Department prepares the student for competence in an office situation, as well as courses that benefit home and college. Business is an inherent part of everyone's life and it is wise to have knowledge of a few of the basic skills offered at S.H.S.

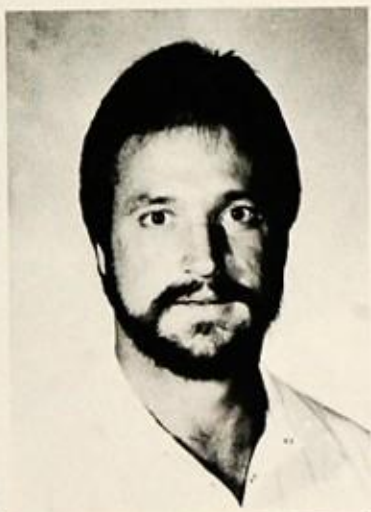

The Home Economics Department prepares students for home and family life with both skills and values. It offers courses such as Child Growth and Development, Independent Living (popular with the male species!) and Food Service which gives students job entry skills.

The Industrial Arts program provides training in hand and machine tools and in the processes of industry. Students can develop industrial interests in metals, graphics, electronics, woods, automotives, and drafting.

The school also offers many vocational programs such as Co-operative Work Education, Vocational Agriculture, and Distributive Education for retail experience training.

the study hall: a welcome haven

The study period is one of the only periods a day the average Southington High students looks forward to. Basically there are 2 places to report during these study periods: either the cafeteria or the library.

No one shall ever forget the organized chaos of the cafeteria for studies and lunch. Considering the multitude of students which must be fed each day it is a wonder the kitchen has had enough food! But under the direction of Mrs. Kuziak the cafeteria has never failed. The cafeteria is a place to meet friends and hear the latest happenings. However, because of the many distractions and the noise level the cafeteria is never the place to study successfully.

The school, therefore, offers the library: the antithesis of the cafeteria. Filled with books the library has an abundance of information which students can rely on for reports and papers. Headed by Mrs. Hemberger the library has an air of studiousness excellent for working. The library, though, can be a place for relaxing to read a magazine or a good book or even take a nap!

a warm light in the darkness

With the coming of Fall a beloved friend and teacher, George Kloss, passed away. George Kloss was above all a friend to all for he never had a harsh word for anyone. Mostly remembered about Mr. Kloss is his cheerful, kind disposition and character, picking up a friend when he was down, never getting angry and always having a smile. He was at the receiving end of a great bit of ribbing over his exuberance about his old alma mater of Notre Dame. But being the kind of man he was, he would always laugh, taking it lightly and joke right back.

A great sportsman, Mr. Kloss was involved with many S.H.S. sports programs. For a number of years he was the cross-country coach, a statistician for the football team as well as the golf team coach. His greatest love was for the game of golf. One of Mr. Kloss' saddest disappointments in his last days of illness was that he would never again be able to raise a club in a round of golf.

By his students Mr. Kloss was much loved, for all knew of his great concern for his students. Just to keep many students interested in class Mr. Kloss invented the comical Family Von Kloss whose antics lasted throughout history and whose stories shall probably never be forgotten by those who heard them.

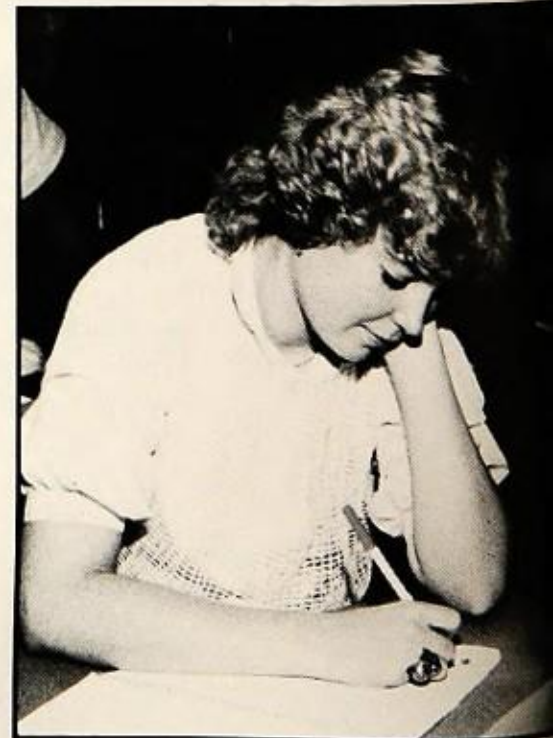

In his 33 years on the S.H.S. staff in the Social Studies Department Mr. Kloss became wealthy in friendships. He was the type of man to inspire such devotion as his friends and students displayed for him. Mr. Kloss is a man surely to be missed. Friendships last for an eternity and Mr. Kloss is a friend never to be forgotten. There is a light in the darkness, it lies in the memories of a friend.

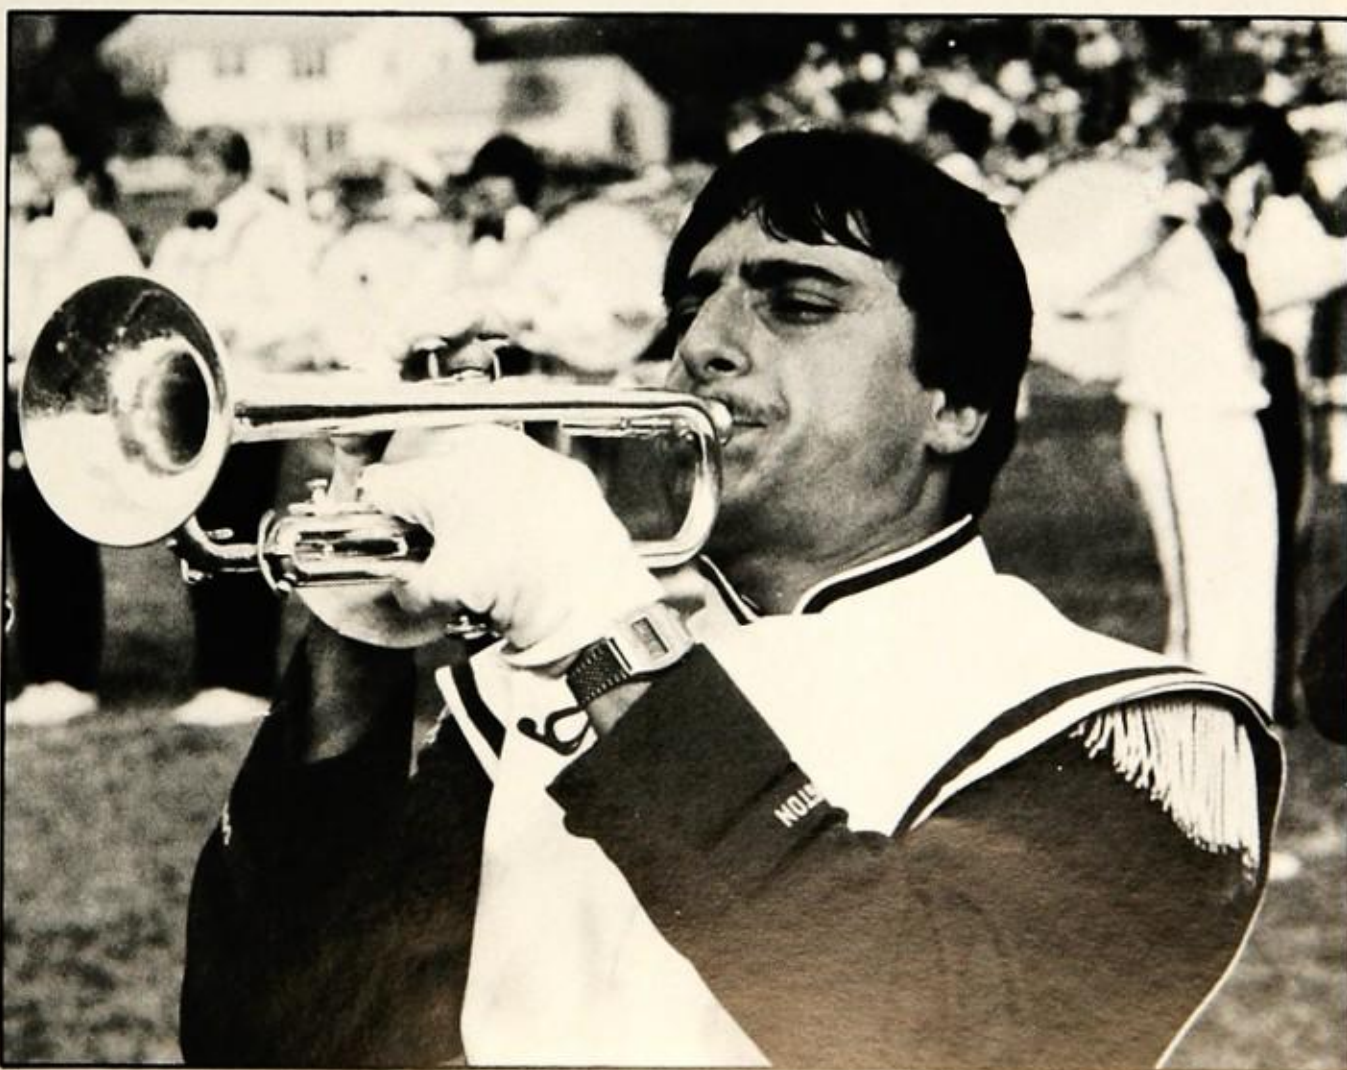

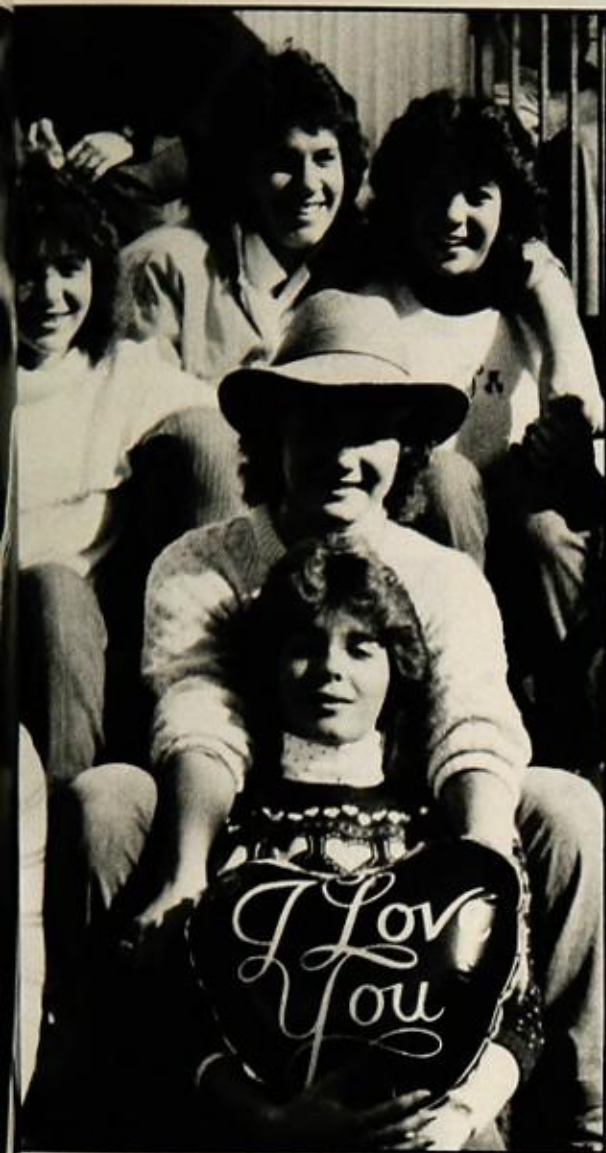

SPOTLIGHT

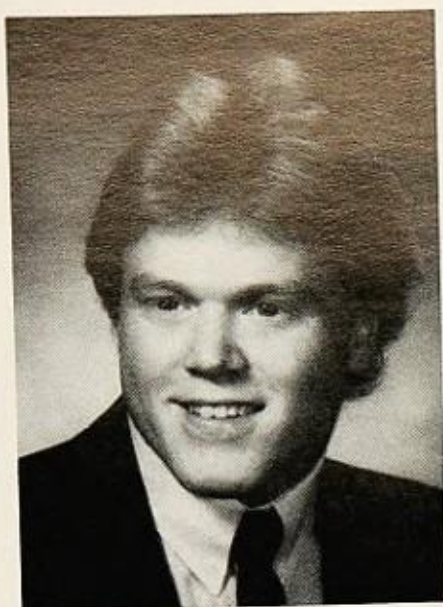

our students- the charm of S.H.S.

S.H.S. has a special aura about it that seems to make it special to us. One thing that helps make up this charm of S.H.S. is the people who fill its halls. Not just the faculty and administration, but the students themselves. Every class, sophomores, junior, and senior, plays a part in bringing about school spirit. This section is dedicated to those students who make up our school population, with junior and sophomore home room pictures and senior portraits. These are the people who make us individual, unique, and special.

hot items . . . parking permits

One crisp day in early autumn as you walk into school you see a raging crowd outside of Mrs. Daddio's office. What could it be? Perhaps those selected students on the infamous "204List" are revolting? No, that couldn't possibly be it, as this mass of bodies with outstretched hands is trying to push its way into the office in hopes of attaining some desperately needed object. Money? Certainly Mrs. Daddio isn't handing out late passes on green paper bills with Ben Franklins on them! But, of course! It must be the application to obtain a parking permit. Without this sticker, you can't park your vehicle (or anyone else's) in the school parking lot. These hot items are not randomly dispersed to any Dick, Jane, or Harry. Rather, they are handed out on a priority basis. Naturally, seniors are first priority. Yet to the surprise of many seniors, they didn't receive a permit for the lack of an afterschool job, early dismissal, or involvement in extra-curricular activities. Juniors are considered next, and if the occasion should arise that spaces are still vacant, even sophomores get a chance!

neon brights, oversized coats clothe females

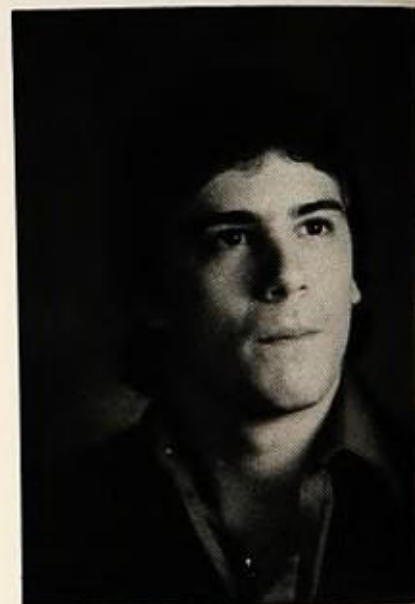

One thing that can break up a relationship is clothing fads. Did you ever witness a girl all dolled up in this year's new neon brights, walking over to her boyfriend's locker to surprise him? She really does! She nearly blinds the poor boy! Embarrassed as he is, he refuses to walk with her to class. These bright yellows, oranges, greens and pinks get you noticed in the hall, that's for sure!

Many of us who don't make a spectacle of ourselves go towards the conservative look. This year, the male and executive look is a definite hit. Oversized overcoats and sweaters is a specialty. Under these, our young versions of Brooke, model their oversized blouse also. These are usually dressed up with a tie or a string of pearls to add a touch of class. Fitted and cropped pants are also a big deal this year. Hey, anything that makes me look tall and slim is alright with me!

While punky miniskirts are on their way out, jean miniskirts are a hit! Although length is debatable, these are about the coolest things to wear to school, seeing as shorts are forbidden. Moving even further down, flats are also back in this year. In a variety of colors, these flats, usually leather, dress anything up.

An accessory is a little something to spend your week's lunch money on. The way we wear them here, it's a wonder we still eat! They consist of belts, hairpieces, colorful watches, ties, ribbons, stylish socks, even leather-spike things. With all this going for us, we should be the ones in vogue!

How in the world can one get a parking permit these days without falsifying records or proving scholastic hardships? One gets a job. O.K., so now you get your job and you park in the parking lot legally, but now you're stuck with another problem. First, will you feel morally liable for serving fried burgers when there are plenty of respectable flame broiling establishments to choose from? Or, if you choose to work at K-Mart, will you subconsciously downshift at the register whenever you see the flashing blue light?

Southington offers a wide variety of adolescent labor opportunities that are available for the ambitious employee. Queen Street, the land of opportunity, is where most students work and gain experience with which to deal with the savage world of enterprise. Hopefully, our post-graduate years will be spent behind a large, hand-tooled desk, but until then, enjoy the great experience!

not just a place to hang your coat

One of the first places every student heads for as he enters the school is toward his locker. A locker is much more than just a place to hang your coat and throw your books. In your locker is a conglomeration of the year's events! You can look in almost any locker and find perhaps a ticket to a dance that brings back memories, an "A" paper you had worked extremely hard on, or a note from a friend that had been forgotten. A whole year's worth of memories. Your locker is unique, not only because of its special combination, because of the pictures and stickers that people put in them. That is what makes the locker individual only to you.

Of course, many people when doing their final locker cleanout find old gym clothes that had been used over five months ago, or an old moldy sandwich that was forgotten. You always know where these lockers are because people always avoid standing next to them. Wonder Why?

SHS celebrates 10th anniversary

This year is special for S.H.S. because it is the 10th year Anniversary of the high school in its new building. Previously Southington High had been in the building in which Central Elementary now lies. However, in September of 1974 all the high school students switched to our building. The 74-75 graduating class was the first to graduate from this school.

Many changes have been made since then: changes in policies, courses, and teachers. Some things have remained the same. Many teachers just made the move with the entire school. Now we are involved in an even bigger architectural change with the addition to the high school. But to us the school will always be just the way we leave it, locked in our memories. Still we wish you may have many more anniversaries to celebrate. Happy Birthday S.H.S!

computer age hits all depts. at SHS

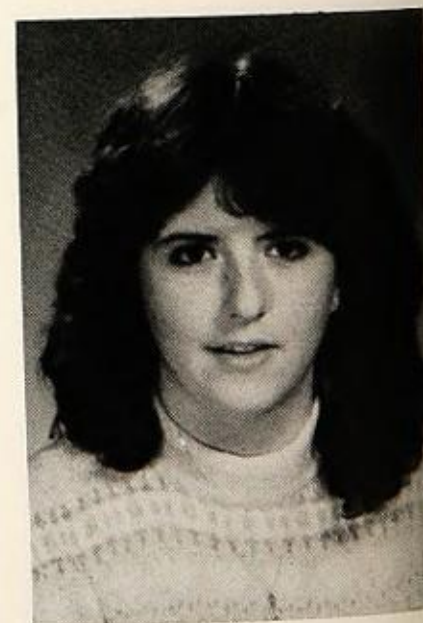

Welcome to the Computer AGE! S.H.S. has finally been boosted into the present. Computers are very valuable tools which have been incorporated effectively throughout the school during 1984-85. Each department has been equipped with a computer to store data. The library has been given the use of a few computers to loan out for student use. The Guidance office has set up a computer in the Career

Resource Center to help students with vocation choice. For the students who do not know how to operate these computers, courses have been provided to teach them. We are lucky to have so many computer operators on staff at S.H.S. Southington High School even has one of the few braille computers in the state! Look out future, here we come!

Once again this year, the hottest item in dolls is the Cabbage Patch kid. These pudgie-faced kids are still eagerly sought after by mothers and fathers who wish to surprise their children with one of the tots. Even with the introduction of the kids' younger brothers and sisters called "Preemies" and new pets called "Koo-sas", the Cabbage Patch industry is still hard put to fill the demand. With names like "LouLou Delta Lee" and "Parker Whitney", these cute little dolls will soon be joined by twins and triplets, no doubt with names like "Ella Elizabeth" and "Elsie Tara" for twins and "Huey," "Dewey," and "Louie Lamont" for triplets. No matter the size or gender of your kid, there are multiples of accessories available to make your kid comfortable. These include walkers, swings, clothes and disposable diapers. Maybe someone out there can tell the rest of us exactly why Cabbage Patch Kids need disposable diapers!

channel 8's school of the week — SHS

One fine autumn day in November of the year 1984, people came to their senses. They named Southington High School the "High School of the Week!" Our spirit, enthusiasm and pride shone above that of all of the other high schools, anywhere! At the annual Thanksgiving game pep rally, where the seniors ruled, Mr. Skip Church of Channel 8 Action News, presented the plaque to our "fine establishment." Being the modest students we are, we screamed and yelled and let everyone know who was the best. Skip Church, that famous newsman, gave us a pep talk, or at least he tried! He lost his voice trying to psych us up; we already were!!

Southington High School, especially the seniors of '85, will never forget the honor of being named "High School of the Week."

wall-to-wall people cause traffic jam

Five . . . four . . . three . . . two . . . one. The bell rings. The entire school population then converges into the halls. Between classes students only have 4 minutes to get to their next class. If the class happens to be on another floor and on the other side of the building you obviously have a lot of hall space to travel. To do it in 4 minutes may seem easy. However, the school hallways are always massively crowded. It always seems that when you're in the biggest rush you're behind the slowest people! If you try to go around you come up against a wall of people heading in the other direction and on the other side is a line of people at their lockers. You're stuck!

Our school hallways are interesting, to say the least, to the eye. They are arranged in a variety of unique colors that draw attention to, if not brighten, the hallways.

The hallways serve another purpose than just a pathway to the next classroom. In the halls friends are able to gather and talk before school or, if you have the chance, between classes.

rattus rattus infests the classroom

Ratt? No, rats are not the band members of the rock group but they are distant cousins of ours as well as Mickey Mouse. Yes, it is true. According to Mr. Robert DeBishop, the rat is a representative mammal to the human body. Every year Rattus Rattus infests the Anatomy and Physiology classrooms at Southington High School.

Remember the joys of dissecting Kermit the Frog in Biology class? Well, in Anatomy, seniors again have the opportunity to relive their dissection days. It's such fun receiving your own rat from the formaldehyde bucket with an instrument case (making sure that all seven tools are there) and naming him after your "favorite person." Once the rat peacefully rests on the dissecting pan the student can begin the cutting procedures.

Exclamations such as "Oh, that's gross!" can be heard from some of the female students squirming in their chairs while others secretly kept a vigil with the wall clock. Just before the class ends, it is very important to throw away all of the Rattus Rattus rubbish into the Rattus Rattus bucket! For some strange reason, the students who performed the dissection do not eat in the cafeteria for weeks after ... (Wonder Why?!)

various designs, colors, shapes

Every year the opportunity of buying a class ring is offered to all students. The students are given many different designs, colors, and shapes to choose from. They may choose something plain — simply containing the school symbol and the school color as a stone. Others may sells everything from toys to donuts

Each morning from first period to third period in the cafeteria, the school store is open for business. Selling anything from stuffed animals to Dunkin Donuts, the store is a lifesaver for all those students who, after waking up at 7:30, are lucky enough to have an early study so they can still get their morning donuts and orange juice. On each holiday, the store sells appropriate gifts for girlfriends, boy-friends, even mom and dad. If you're in need of a pen or pencil or just have a sudden urge for Crunchy Cheese Doodles, the store has what you need, and a lot of stuff you probably never heard of. art students prepare 1985 mural

Once again the talented art students at SHS gathered to prepare a mural for the senior class. This year's topic was popular things of 1984 and 1985. Characters such as Gabbage Patch Kids, Gremlins, Care Bears, Prince, and Boy George appear on the wall in the hallway of the basement.

This year Mr. Grimaldi advised the group of artists. The first step of preparing the mural was the rough draft on a piece of paper. After the rough draft was completed and approved by the administration, the young artists were ready to begin on the wall. The whole process took many long hours. There were many study periods spent to complete the mural, but with a lot of hard work and dedication it was completed. Great job!

teachers hate them, students love them

Cliff and Monarch notes- teachers hate them, students couldn't live without them. All of us have been thankful for these notes on the night before a book report was due. Some students rely on Cliff Notes rather than reading an assigned book, yet others use them to better understand theme, plot, and characterization.

Although teachers would rather students interpret a novel on their own, Cliff Notes are a part of high school. Unfortunately, they can be pretty expensive, costing anywhere from $2.25 to $4.00, and are sold only in bookstores. Cliff and Monarch notes are rarely tossed into a desk and forgotten, they are passed around and shared with brothers, sisters, and friends.

flakes fall, skiers flock to slopes

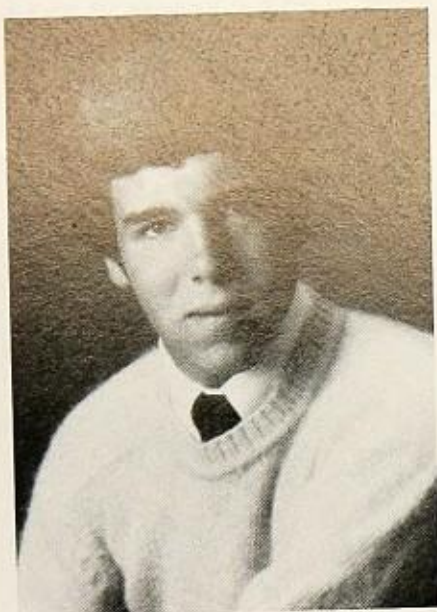

When the thermometer falls to 30° F, Southington's own Mt. Southington comes alive. Hundreds of skiers flock to the snowy slopes seeking the downhill thrill.

Skiing is an exciting, vigorous sport but it can be a dangerous one when control is lost. Thus practice is required to achieve this downhill thrill. The beginner skier thinks skiing is easy to do but later finds it a stiff, nerve racking sport. On the other hand, the experienced skier must take heed not to cross the path of a beginner skier. They are generally found snowplowing on Hill One but these skiers may get out of hand and slip onto greater hills and bump into other skiers as well as trees.

Skiing at Mt. Southington is certainly one of the best ways to spend a weekend. What's a better way than to spend a crisp clear day riding the chairlift up the scenic snow-covered mountain and getting off facing the wind racing down Dom's way.

Skiing at Mt. Southington is truly an exhilarating experience for the professional as well as the beginner because it brings out the stunt man in you!

school food has bad reputation

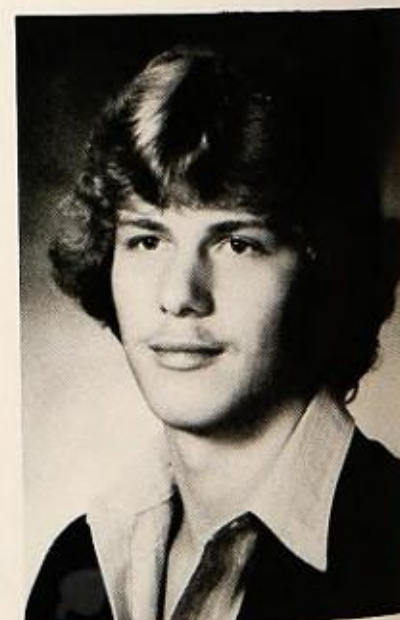

After leaving S.H.S., all of us will hold on to memories of friends, classes, and events. But what is the one thing that you will try to forget? To this question many people automatically come up with only one answer — the cafeteria food. The school food has an increasingly bad reputation. Of course the people who complain the loudest are usually the first ones in line the next day! The savior of most students, though, is the canteen counter.

There lie all types of food for all types of people, from the quick sandwich lover, to the junk food junkie, and even for the health food nut there are salads and fruit. The canteen line is usually the longest to wait in, and is usually backed up to the tables. Sometimes the long canteen lines drive the starving student into the regular lunch line. Unfortunately, even if we try, S.H.S. food will be difficult to forget.

complete with carpeting, and movie screen

Just what is an armed forces career van? This is one of the many questions that brought a few hundred kids to the back of the school to find out. All kinds of kids went from Preps, to Punks, and even some sophomores! The armed forces career van was just what it sounds like . . . a large eighteen wheeler van complete with carpeting, air conditioning and a full wall movie screen.

The air force captain who was in charge talked to the group of students who came to the van about careers in the armed forces. He then proceeded to show a slide show with four projectors. The slide show told a chronological story about the air force which was extremely interesting. The captain then proceeded on talking about all kinds of opportunities people were eligible for in the armed forces. He followed up by asking for questions and then the show was over and it was back to class.

desks and chairs trap students in

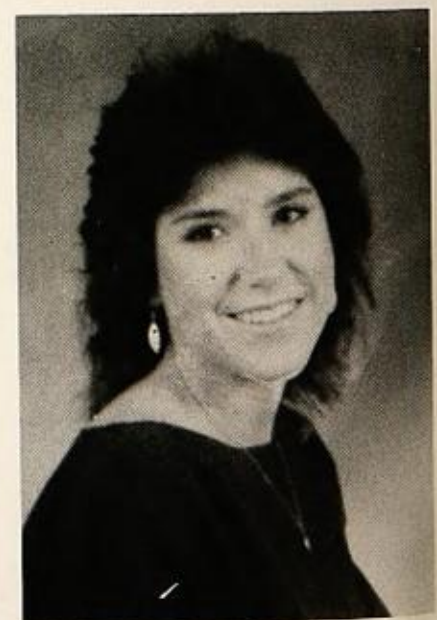

Has anyone gotten up from sitting through a 45 minute class with a wish to visit the nearest chiropractor? The backache seems to accompany the chairs and desks provided for the students of S.H.S. As much as you try squirming about in your seat, there just doesn't seem to be a place to get comfortable. Plus, you almost get the feeling you're being trapped with three sides closed off. Many people, to take their minds off their miseries, take to reading the interesting messages scratched on these desks. Some even add their own "creative" sayings. Of course you mustn't forget the cafeteria chairs in the unique array of colors provided. At least in those you have more freedom to move. The most comfortable chairs in S.H.S. provided for the student use (and that really isn't saying much) are the couches within the wooden arms in the library. Perhaps if lounge chairs were provided in classrooms instead, it would take some students minds off their aches and onto the teacher. Of course, many more would be asleep!

The time is Sunday night. The setting: your bedroom. Books lie in fantastic mounds across your floor and dresser; all homework, all unfinished, and all due tomorrow. But wait! Although you have four reports that you have to complete by 7:50 a.m. that were assigned four months ago (oh yes, you knew!) what are you doing? Why fiddling with your radio of course! Yes, those first few flakes appear in the dense hours of the morning and your desperate mind craves the absolute latest weather bulletin. You would sell your soul for sleet, wouldn't you?

Everyone's favorite disc jockey is the one that predicts 25 feet of snow. You joke . . . you laugh with your friends and stretch lies of the impending avalanche so that you almost believe it yourself. WTIC is usually accurate, but come on, accuracy is not the stuff that dreams are made of! The bold listener tunes to WHCN or WCCC to get the only report that counts. When you find yourself cursing after their predictions were wrong though, remember that they address an audience that is predominantly school going. Lots of luck explaining that an escaped panther from a travelling circus attacked you and devoured your reports. The high school student will forever remain an idealist.

adjusting to a different lifestyle

Imagine going to a foreign country, living with a strange, new family for a year and attending a public school? One must be an independent, outgoing person to handle such a situation as this. Some of the many things which one must adjust to are eating habits, lifestyle, and the standard of living. Yet, by far, the most difficult obstacle to overcome is social acceptance from one's peers. Within a month or so most exchange students are well adapted to their new surroundings. Throughout the years, S.H.S. has been an active participant in the exchange student program. Anywhere from one to five foreign students enroll at S.H.S. each September. For most exchange students, this is their first look at the U.S.A., and because of this, they are eager to learn and anxious to see what life is really like here in America. Although these students may not realize it, they also contribute to the cultural awareness of S.H.S. students. This year S.H.S. is privileged to have one exchange student, Bjorn Goldman, who is from Sweden. Well-liked by all who know him, Bjorn is truly an asset to the Southington High School student body.

school spirit shows at pep rallies

The most ear shattering display of school and class spirit comes during the annual pep rallies. Before the opening of the football season each year the school holds its traditional pep rally to cheer on the Fall teams. Another is held before the Thanksgiving Game. This year was special because we held still another pep rally to urge on our football team in the championship game.

For each pep rally the bleachers are pulled out in the gym, the wall are covered with rivaling posters and banners, the band's playing, the cheerleader's cheering, and most of all students are yelling! Each class is separated in different sets of stands with one set aside for the teams. The "Who's Loudest?" contests seem to shake the walls. Of course, the students under the sign "Senior Stomping Ground" always come out the victors. The team captains between roars encourage the team on to a winning season. The teams leave with the knowledge of S.H.S. spirit behind them, psyched to go out and get 'em! YEA TEAM!

A new generation of cartoons have arrived! Snoopy and Superman have been joined by the high technology adventures of Voltron, a huge powerful super robot disguised as five mechanical lions. Masters of the Universe is also very popular, with He-Man, Teela, Orko, Skeletor, and other interesting characters. This cartoon is different from many others in that a moral is presented at the end of the story. He-Man and his friends use their brains as well as brawn to combat the evil forces of Skeletor.

Garfield, Mickey Mouse, the Smurfs, and many old favorites still continue to entertain cartoon fans both young and old.

symbol of friendship, respect, and love

Wild flowers swaying gently in the summer breeze. The picture is quite a contrast to the way the flowers for our flower sales are thrown haphazardly into the white buckets! What a difference! Flower sales at S.H.S. are held throughout the year by different groups such as Key Club, the classes, and Student Council. The flowers themselves come in a selective choice of red, pink, and white, (sometimes orange!) carnations. The best flowers sell very rapidly and the others, as crushed as some get, are usually sold before the end of the day.

Throughout a flower sale day girls will be hoping to get a flower from that someone special, while guys will be trying to get up the nerve to give a flower to someone they feel is special. Sometime you will see a sad face on flower sale days because that person did not receive the flower that was wanted so badly.

At S.H.S. the giving of a flower is a symbol of friendship, respect, and love that has become almost a tradition- a tradition that will probably remain for quite a few years to come.

massive traffic jams on the sophomore strip

Sophomores-those gullible, naive students!! Unfortunately, everyone goes through the experience of being a sophomore at least once in his life. Here at S.H.S., sophomores are the "lowest men on the totem pole", and for that reason they are insulted more, ranked on more, and laughed at more, all in good taste of course. However, sophomores themselves don't seem to help their image too much, especially in the mornings. Being insecure, they must walk, talk, stand, breathe, and eat in groups of at least six people. This isn't really too terrible of a crime, except before homeroom! Upon arriving in the morning, the majority of the girls congregate in the upstairs lav in the yellow hallway to confirm (or deny- "My hair looks gross today!") their appearance. All the while, the guys are desperately trying to arrange their lanky forms in positions resembling GQ models. After a while they come out and, in clump formation, begin plowing their way up and down the hallway, never turning for fear of bumping into a junior or senior, but always staying on that yellow strip. Massive "traffic" jams begin to form as the clumps stop in the middle of the hall to socialize, thus preventing any civilized senior from passing through; and people wonder why seniors "love" sophomores so much!!

Gym classes are an everyday part of school life. Everyone must participate in gym or play on one of many scholastic sports teams here. Many people fear going to gym for reasons relatively unknown. Maybe people have phobias about being in gym shorts and a tee shirt, the required dress for phys. ed classes. In most cases people refuse to take gym because they are lazy or do not like the activity that is being played at that certain time. Some people go as far as pretending that they are hurt or injured to be excused from gym classes.

Gym, or physical education (as it is written on report cards), is necessary for graduation. You must receive one full credit in physical education to graduate from Southington High School. Since everyone must participate, the gym teachers are now presenting some options of activities for all grade levels in order to please most of the student population. Common "fun activities" are badminton and volleyball. These games are often played with enthusiasm and vigor, sometimes getting out of hand.

Southington High School sponsors groups that benefit the citizens of the town as well as school students. Every Thanksgiving the Student Council, sponsored by Miss Cope, has a canned food drive for needy families in Southington. This year twelve families have benefited from the service. Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) is another important program that demonstrates the students' dedication to the welfare of the individual and the needs of the public.

For most of us, the giving of Christmas presents has become an expected event that enhances the feeling of seasonal good cheer. But for some children, a gift brings a joy more precious than we could ever imagine. Toys for Tots, a program coordinated by the Key Club, sponsored by Mr. DeBisschop and Mrs. Aleksinas, recognizes the need and contributes to the happiness of children during the holidays. But gift giving at S.H.S. is not just a seasonal affair. The Crop Walk and the Special Olympics are just two more of the many programs for which the high school students show their concern all year round. With the many adverse complications in the world, it is reassuring to know that such operations dedicated to caring still exist.

As everyone knows, hairstyles change every year. Following the styles in all of the fashion magazines has always been a specialty of S.H.S. students. Hairstyles this year took a turn toward the natural look. Many crowns sported a natural shine and softness. One of the favorites, which we borrowed from our past is the bob. The "bob" look consists of hair cut straight across the back. Shorter renditions of this style "bob" up and down as the wearer walks to chemistry class, thus giving it its name.

If playing with whipped cream cans is one of your specialties, then mousse is for you. Mousse is a revolutionary discovery, a foam, which can even come in chocolate, lemon, and strawberry and helps add body, shine, and manageability to hair.

Dressing up their locks was another thing that made '85 women unique this year. Bright! Many girls added bright ribbons and ties to their wardrobe with which to accent their hair. In hotter temperatures, the good old bandana comes into play as a headband. Varieties of colored pins and clips, large and small, were a new thing this year. They make the wearer look carefree or, if the wearer does not know how to wear them, they make her look like a mess.

With all of these hairstyle helpers we have here at S.H.S., Vidal Sassoon would be proud!

looking up, students see green — not blue

Every morning as we drag our bodies into school, do we ever take the time to look up on the roof? The majority of the students are in a daze this early in the morning, observing very little or nothing. However, sitting on top of the school roof 365 days of the year is a quaint little greenhouse. If you're not one to go strolling on the roof, then you've probably never seen this fertile dominion.

Used by the Botany and Biology classes, the greenhouse contains a variety of vegetation ranging from marigold plants to tomato plants. The green house, though, is basically used for experimental purposes only. Most students don't realize how fortunate we are to have a high school equipped with a greenhouse!

CLASS LEADERS IN REVIEW

leaders changed but spirit remained

Although our group of officers of the class of "85" has changed, the dedication of the officers has remained constant. Sophomore year, our officers were: President, Rhonda Sargis; Vice-President, Tina Palumbo; Secretary, Donna Ascione; and Treasurer, Stacey Lowery. These officers did a great job of helping to unite a group of strangers with different backgrounds and from different schools into the spirited class of "85!"

Junior year brought a new group of seven capable officers: President, Rhonda Sargis; Vice-President, Tina Palumbo; Assistant Vice-President, Jackie Naranjo; Secretaries, Shelly Martelli and Karen Polak; Treasurers, Stacey Lowery and Staci Thompson. Their enthusiasm was much needed as we undertook many activities as a class, including the Junior Prom, "Never Gonna Let You Go," and the Junior Show, "A Knight to Remember."

Finally, it was our senior year, 1984-1985! The year we had eagerly awaited had arrived. President, Denny Stanek; Vice-President, Tina Palumbo; Secretaries, Donna Ascione and Karen Polak; and Treasurers, Stacey Lowery and Staci Thompson were elected as officers by our class. They exhibited the necessary leadership qualities to run our class activities such as the Senior Prom ("You're The Inspiration"), Class Day, Class Night, and the original class of "85" carnival.

We have been very lucky throughout our years at S.H.S. to have elected enthusiastic, spirited, and very capable officers.

The Class of 1985 has much to be thankful for with Miss Turner and Mr. Garry as its advisers. Mr. Garry, who took over for Mr. Stranieri last year, has done an outstanding job working with Miss Turner on planning and organizing all our class activities. Together they brought much enthusiasm and spirit to the class, by putting forth that special effort and devoting their spare time to make our class the best it possibly could be. Much of their time was spent working with the Powder Puff Team, organizing the Senior Class Play, and planning the Senior Prom as well as Class Night and Class Day. They brought much success to our class and should be given special recognition for the terrific job they did!

keep sight of dreams and successes

In three short years here at Southington High School, we have grown, matured and become one. Hard work and the determination for success have helped us to reach our goal.

The time spent in classes was well worth our efforts, for we have grown and matured. We are prepared, for our minds have been opened to the beauty around us.

We could take time — solemn and quiet moments — because we knew we could turn around and someone would be there.

It seems there were always problems and frustrations that blocked our paths. But these obstacles could not defeat us, as we were determined to achieve our goals.

We will not lose sight of our successes and our achievements. The view we possess of our hopes and our dreams shall not be blurred for our spirit cannot be quieted.

I regard these years as the most important in our lives, for we entered Southington High School as diversified individuals, and have grown to become one of the finest classes ever to graduate from Southington High School. I truly am proud to represent the Class of 85 as their president.

GROWTH OF LEADERSHIP

Leadership is a guide to responsibility for others to follow. The concept of leadership is nurtured in S.H.S. and its growth can be appreciated in the leadership of the class of '86 and the class of '87 officers. Each of these groups lead their class with help of advisors. They organize fund-raisers, oversee class activities, and generally raise class and school spirit.

All of the officers take on a lot of responsibility when they accept their positions. The class president is the leader of all the officers and oversees the organization of the activities. Because the president's job entails a great amount of responsibility the vice-president is assigned to help share the work. The secretaries handle all correspondence and record of all meetings. The treasurers supervise the collecting and distributing of funds. Altogether they make a team which works collectively for the good of the class. They are the makings of leaders, the growth of leadership.

For the class of '86, Kerry Andrews is President, Carol Toffolon, Vice-President, Colleen Callahan and Susan Hannigan, Secretaries, and Hope Ursini, Treasurer. Mrs. Hayner and Mr. Feeney are hardworking advisors ready to help the juniors with activities such as the Junior Prom and the Junior Show.

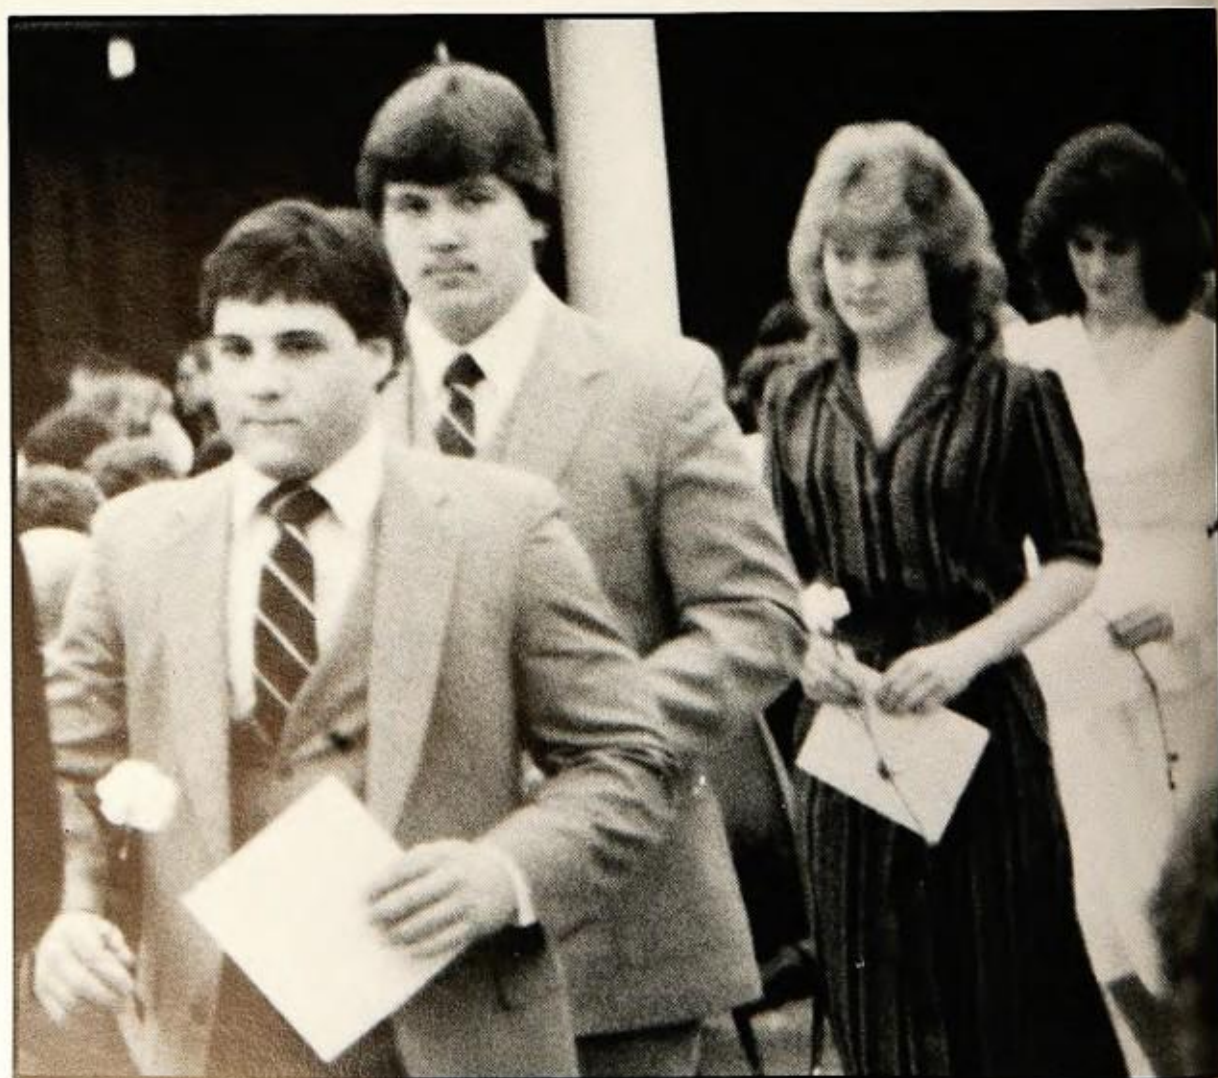

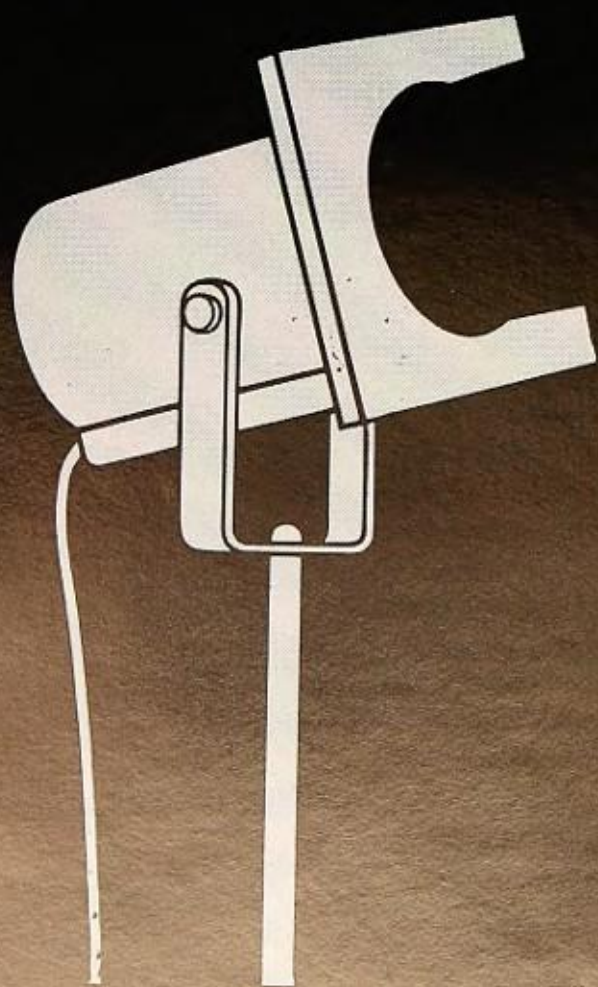

For the sophomores, the class of '87, Jason Doty is President, Mathew Rogala (not shown), Vice-President, Kim Conrad, Treasurer, Pam Getsie, Treasurer, Ruth Amaio, Recording Secretary, Dawn Kelly, Corresponding Secretary.

activities create memorable moments

During our high school years much of our time has been voluntarily spent on extra-curricular activities. This includes not only sports but clubs and organizations to which we belong. Many of these clubs are run and organized by the students themselves. These activities teach responsibility and the work that it entails while still providing a good time for the student. Many clubs, too, are community oriented, helping others who really need it. This fun and special time we spend on these school diversions have brought us great measures of satisfaction on a job well done, spawned curiosity for various subjects, formed friendships, and created memorable moments.

we found pleasure in swaying to the songs;

endear you . . .

Dances are functions at which you can see your friends, meet new people, and have a fun time. Many dances epitomize the school spirit and have an atmosphere that is a relaxing break from traditional scholastic pressures. The Halloween Dance, the Valentine's Day Dance, and the Christmas Dance are special occasions that are all the more enjoyable because of the great holiday spirit involved. The Halloween Dance is especially intriguing due to the unique costumes and their equally unique wearers. Soon the Christmas season comes and goodwill fills the air in the form of many Santa Clauses and the warm, inviting Christmas tunes. The dance at which the lovers spoon is the Valentine's Day Dance where the age old tradition of cupid is ceremoniously honored.

The Welcome Sophomores Dance that was sponsored by our class is a tradition that we appreciated when (remember way back in the fall of 1982?) we became official sophomores. Perhaps "togetherness" is the best word to summarize a dance. The students who set up before the night of a dance have that sense of unity which makes the evening a success, and the enjoyment emanating from the cafeteria symbolizes the happiness we all shared during those moments.

Whether you went to all or just a few of the many dances that were sponsored over the three years we spent at S.H.S., the memories will endear you to them as some of the happiest times passed in high school.

The Class of '85 has all the right moves.

Hula at the Halloween Dance!

Raise your hands if you love to dance.

Getting down to the music.

If your legs get tired then socialize.

DANCING THE NIGHT AWAY

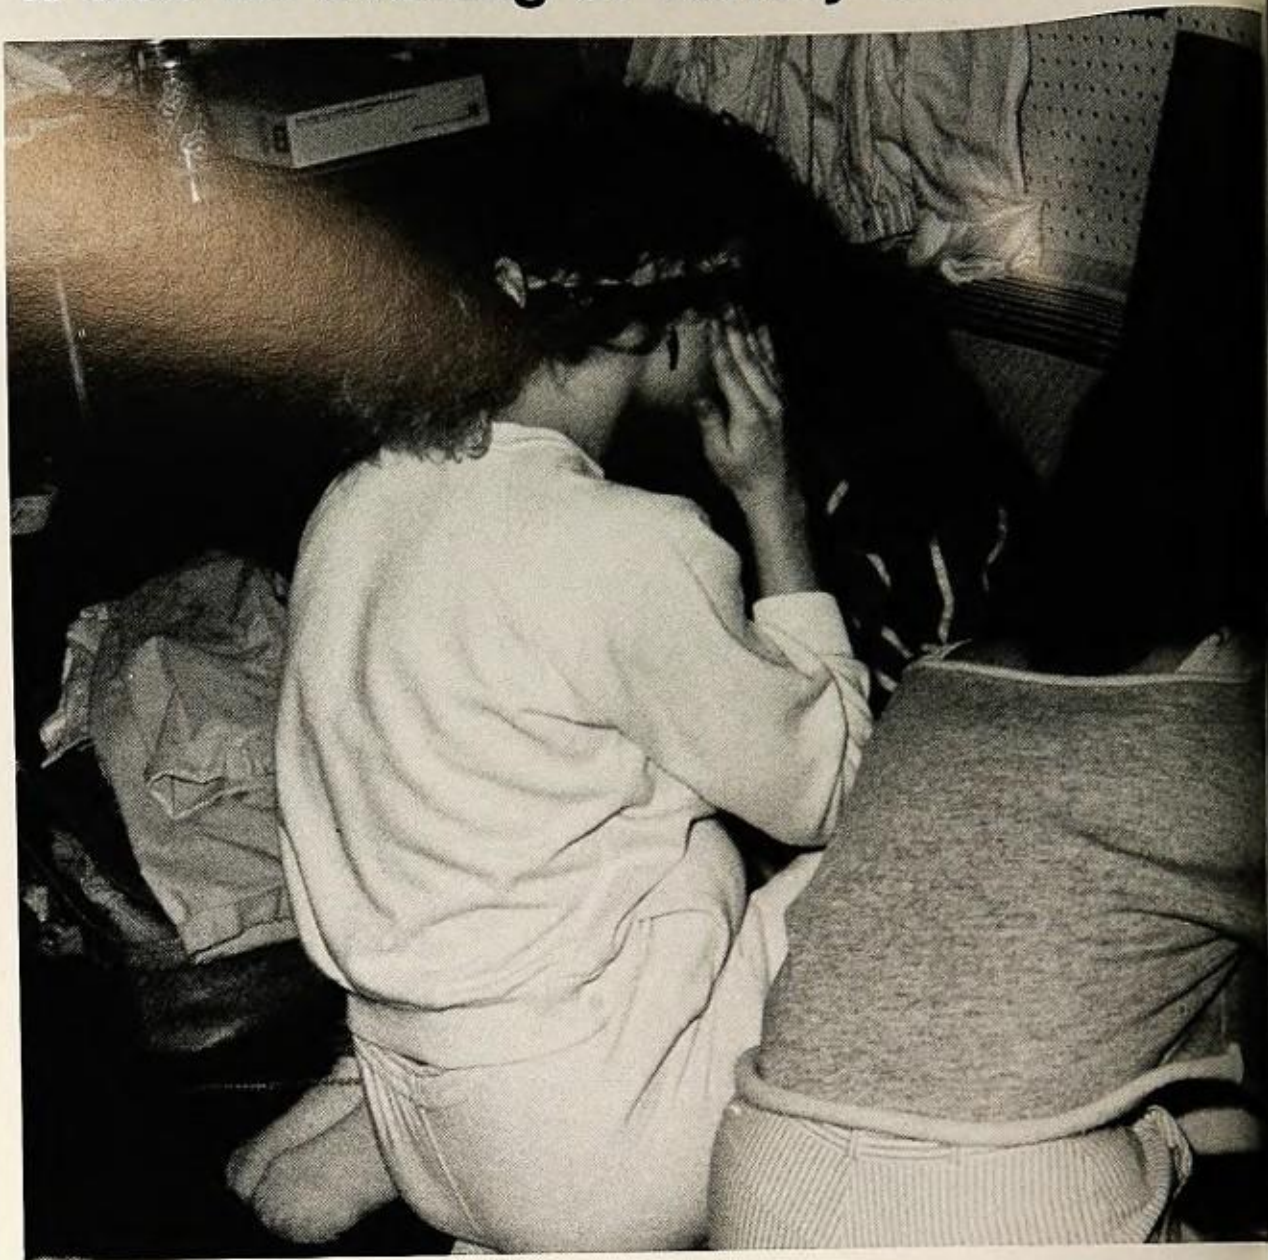

it was an evening of variety and laughter

a night of unique entertainment

Who could forget the variety show that the Class of 1985 presented in the spring of 1984 at Central's auditorium! The show was a prepared sequence of spontaneous comedy that offered such skits as "The Richard Simmons Show," "The Newly Wed Game," and the "Where's the Beef?" commercial. We were also entertained by such superstars as Bob Dylan and The Beach Boys. There were also many singers, musicians and dancers that performed for a sellout show. Many hours of hard work for costumes, scenery, and lighting arrangements went into our Junior Show which proved to be a success. And the best part is that both the audience and the performers had fun.

Jackie Naranjo directed the production and Paula Carrier, Ron VanNess, Mike Majeski, and Kenny Hayes were the Masters of Ceremonies. Most will remember the show as a unique night of entertainment that displayed the talent of our fine class.

Our advisors kept everything organized.

Listening to an announcement before the show.

The preparation was long and tiring.

Thinking about a show well-done.

A KNIGHT TO REMEMBER

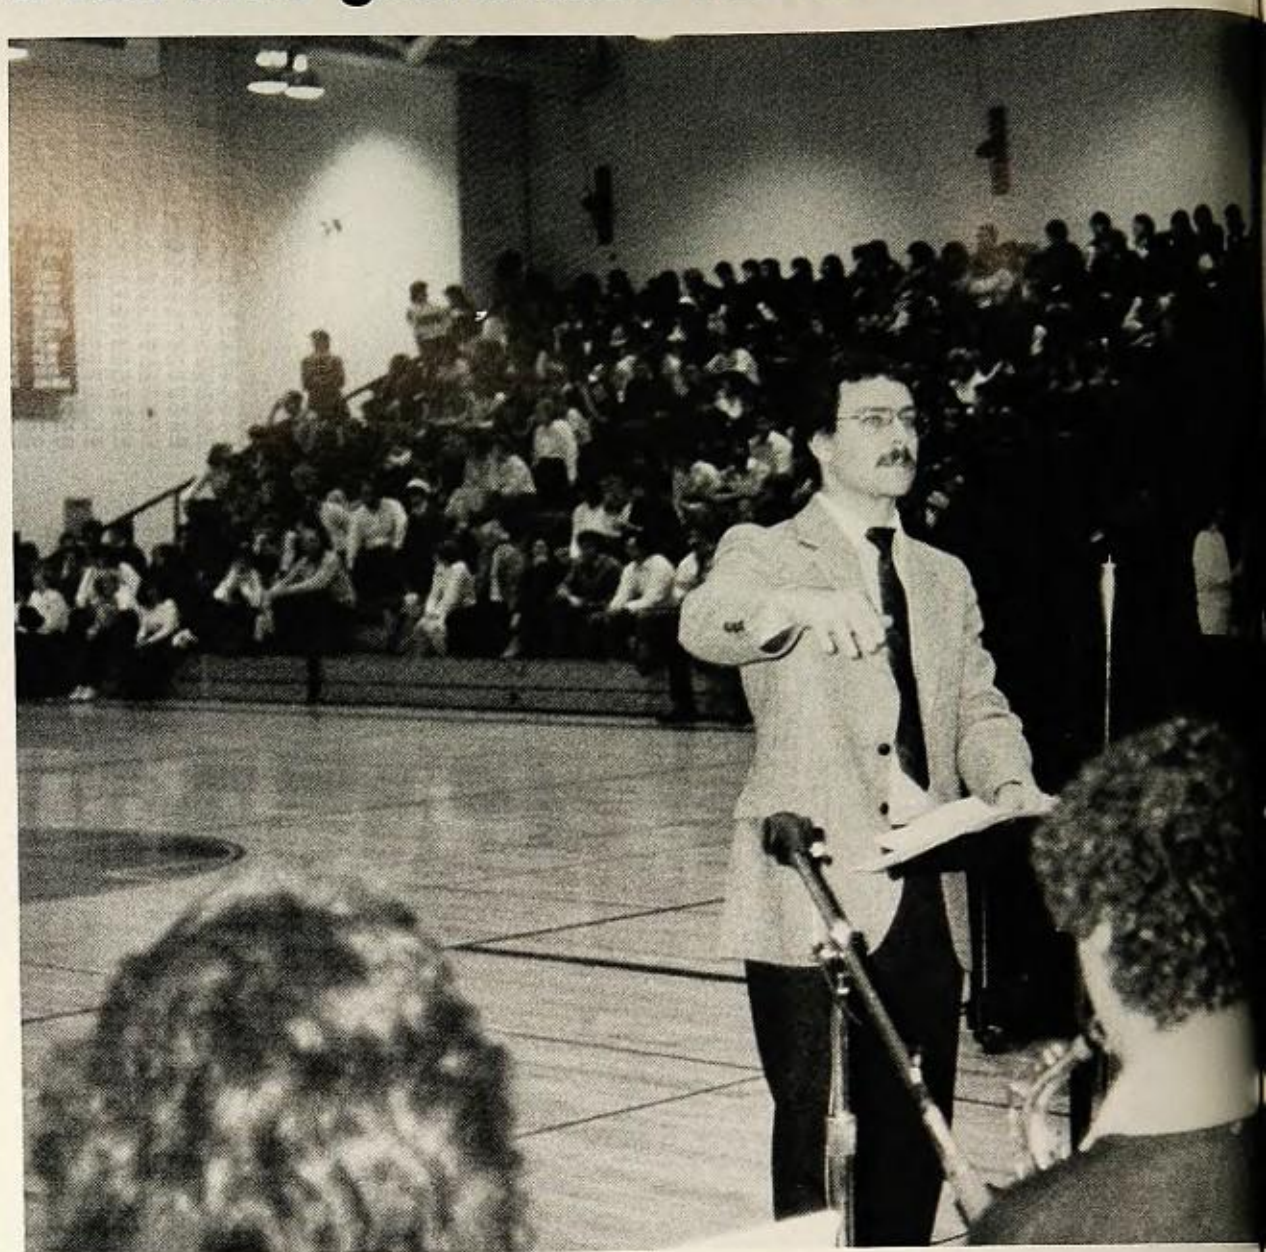

when we relaxed to the music . . .

An "assembly" is another word for an organized pep rally during which students are entertained by the concert, marching, or stage band and the concert choir and mixed chorus. Many students will remember it as an opportunity to have shorter class periods and to relax to some good music. During the Christmas Assemblies we were entertained with seasonal carols and words of good wishes from student council members and administration. Can you remember sitting in the bleachers listening and wondering if you would be trampled by the stampede to the buses?

Assemblies were not only entertaining; they could also be educational. The assembly warning the hazards of drunk driving offered insight to a situation that takes many lives each year. During an assembly you could sit next to a friend that you might not otherwise be able to see during the course of a school day. In the future, when the addition which includes an auditorium, is complete, assemblies will no longer take place in the gymnasium. Until that time we will fondly remember the gym as the location for our school get togethers, and the enjoyment the assembly represented.

the class of 1986: junior prom night

The Junior Prom that took place on November 17, 1984 was certainly a memorable event. It was an evening of fun and dancing that served as a prelude for the future Class of 1986 senior prom. Portraits were taken and everyone was in their top form with an array of colorful, elegant gowns and sharp tuxedos. The "super dance" of the junior year, it was a gala event that reflected the spirit of its fine class.

At the door couples received their favors. Boys were given large mugs and girls received champagne glasses. The highlight of the evening was the band "Hartford" that played live dance music for the prom. When the dancers became tired there were always refreshments close at hand to soothe and revitalize.

Decorations included great wall scenery and mirrored balls and lighting. The setup committee did a fine job in organizing materials so that the surroundings were appealing to the eye. Under the colored lights and decorations one could find many happy couples looking their best for the occasion.

a connecticut yankee in king arthurs court

This year the Drama Club once again offered its great talent on Thursday, January 10 and Friday, January 11, 1985. The production was Samuel Clemens' "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" which was performed with all the life of the original intent of its author. Mr. Feeney, the advisor of the drama club, was very satisfied with the performance of his students who relied on their commitment to all the details of the play.

The students made their own costumes, many of which had to resemble the dress of the medieval period. John Boutilier was the star of the show and Mike Jamrock directed the fine production. Refreshments were provided for the audience during the intermission and the entire play time was approximately an hour.

The magic of the performance, however, was not specifically attributed to the high level of acting ability of the students. It was the fact that through a set of small risers and handmade costumes, students could use the medium of the stage to create a believable situation and set of circumstances. It was a truly memorable performance.

A bow to the applause of the audience.

the excitement of the pep rally

Probably one of the loudest of Southington High School's activities is the pep rally. The 1984-1985 sports' season was very worthy of the spirit emulating from the crowds at the rallies which serve to honor and "pep" our teams before they go into battle. Many patriotic banners professing the superiority of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes are hung before the rally. Chants echo across the gymnasium that make it hard for anyone to hear themselves think.

During this chaos, speakers profess the victory of the teams and honor them with compliments. Usually the band plays and the cheerleaders put on a show along with the rifles, silks, and swing flags. Finally, the sports teams enter and cross the gymnasium while roars from the crowd pierce the ears. The captains speak to the crowd and as the stomping on the bleachers continue, the crowd loses itself in cries of victory.

The pep rally ritual is one of those unforgettable class events that make high school life unforgettable. Between the shouting, the cheering, and the music, this chaotic occasion remains a ceremony that will ever live in our hearts and symbolize the greatness of our old alma mater.

the night that the giants came out to play

pro wrestling in the high school gymnasium

The Southington High School gymnasium was the site for a display of brawn and bulk this year when pro wrestling came to our school in all its power and glory. A ring was assembled for the wrestling which proved to be useless in confining the giants as they chose to carry their fight to the gym floor. Luckily though, a steel gate surrounded the ring which aided in the protection of the audience. Many devout wrestling fans were in attendance for this spectacular event which promised chills, thrills, and excitement for all.

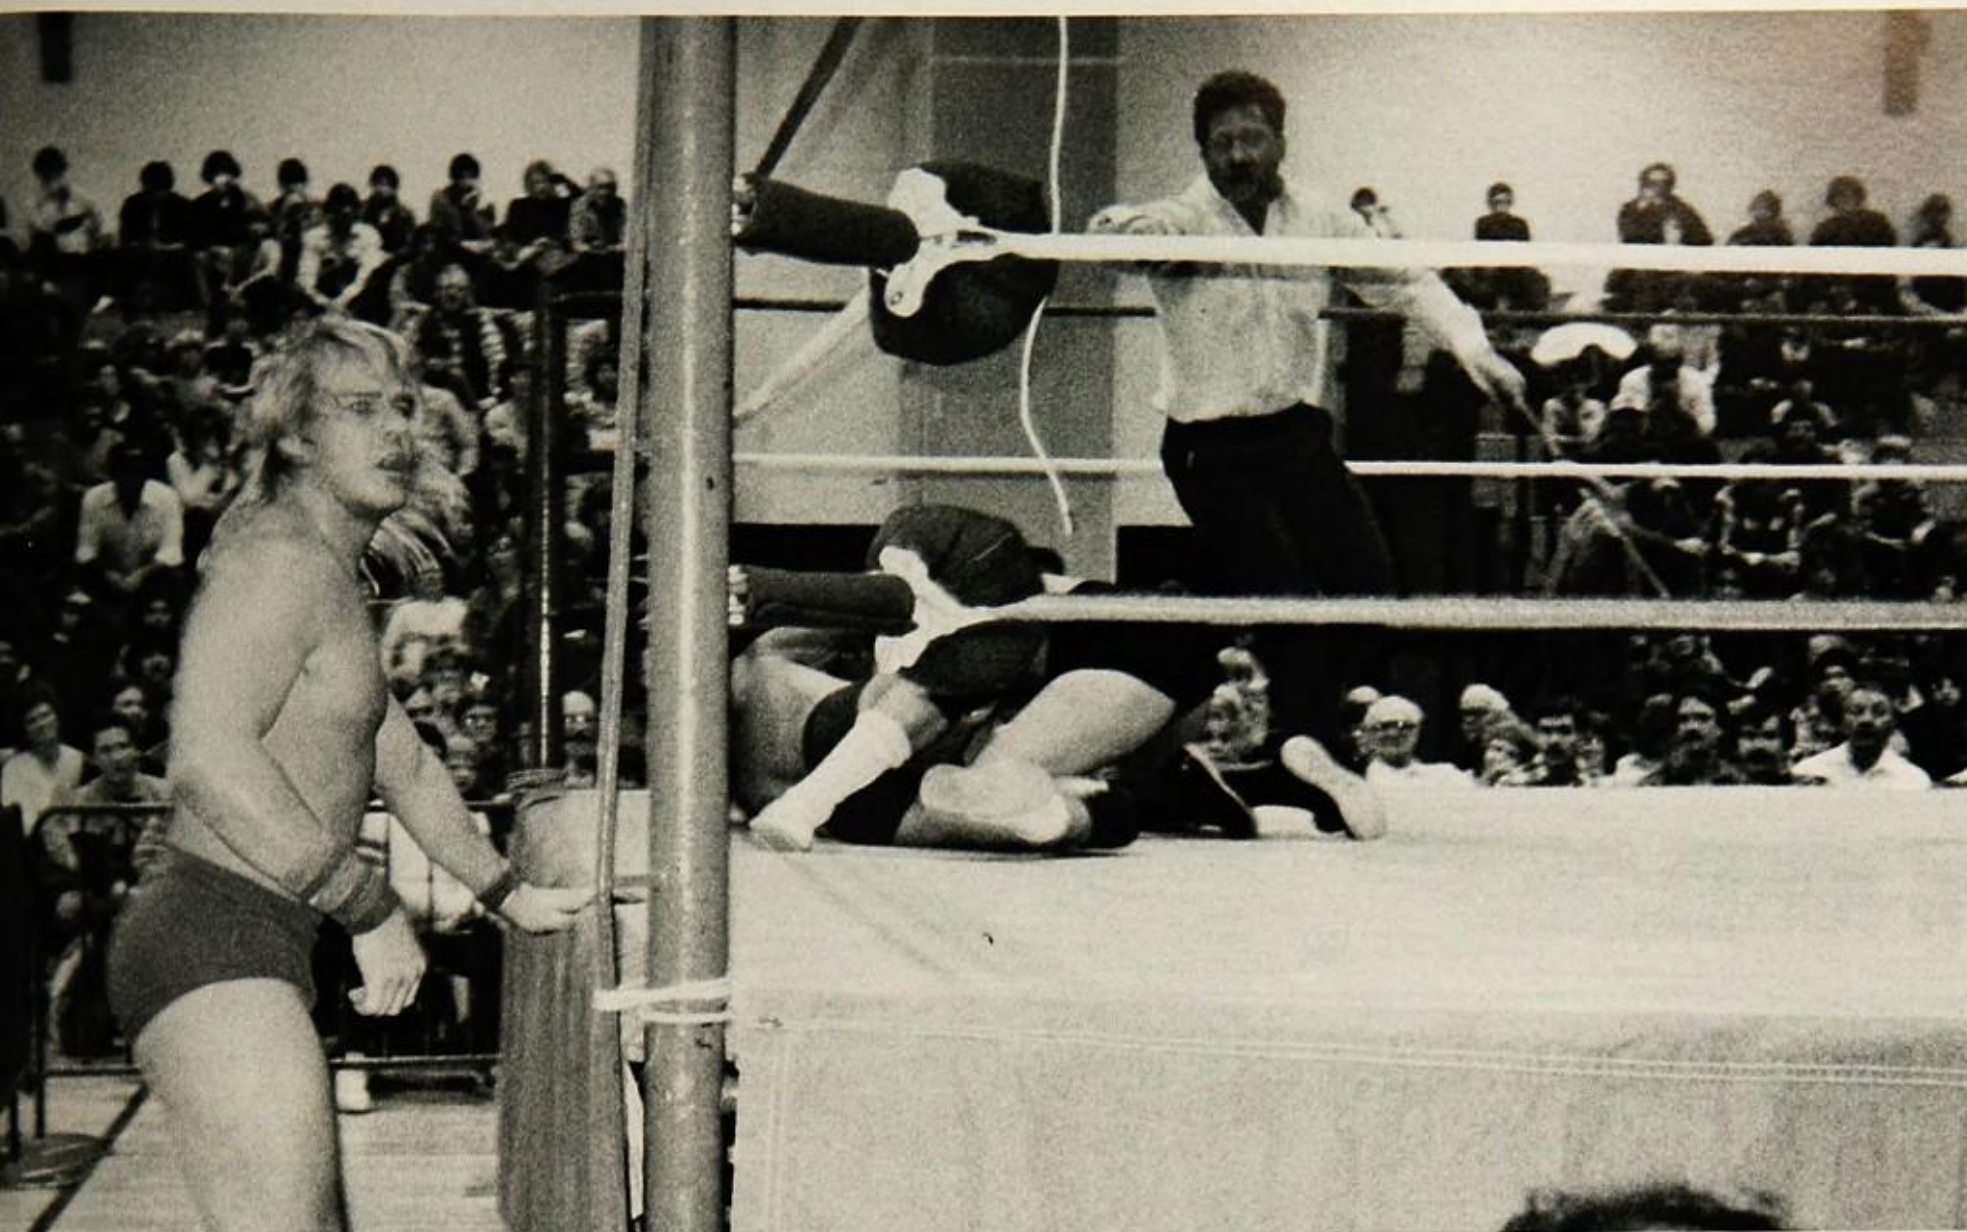

Among the many famous wrestlers in attendance were Rex Moondog, Tony Atlas, and Adrian Adonis. Most viewers will remember the power of "The Spoiler," Steve Jones, Dick Murdock, and Barry Windham and the fury of their sparring. Although pro wrestling is safer to view from a couch in front of a television set, the event was spectacular live. Hopefully pro wrestling will come back to S.H.S. at some future date to provide more excitement for eager fans young and old.

hustling and bustling to sell magazines

A magazine drive is the first dose of a class activity that the Southington High School sophomore receives. Booklets that list the magazines, the prizes for selling, and the sales pitches are given to the students during home room and an assembly is formed to orient the class into selling a great number of magazines. For the sophomore Class of 1987 prizes included stuffed animals large and small, cups and mugs depicting the year of graduation, and long playing records. A giant Sugar Daddy and cash prizes were added incentive for an enterprising individual to sell the quickest and the most magazines.

The Class of 1987 had a successful drive with a total of $25,372.10 raised after the deadline was extended for an extra week. The Class of 1985 raised in their sophomore year a total of $27,716 although both figures were surpassed by the Class of 1986 magazine drive. The class advisors and class officers are the driving force behind the drive each year and serve to motivate the class to sell. The "Perfect School Plan" was the objective of the sophomore class which was finally reached after much persistence and commitment to their cause.

Only time will tell what future class will eventually outsell the rest, but the dedication of the students is the key to every magazine drive and makes every one special and important.

SPOTLIGHTING:

Athletics are an integral part of school life at SHS. Much of the student body commit many hours running laps, conditioning, and learning the fine points of their individual sport. By participating in athletics, a student learns much more than how to shoot a basketball or what a corner is in field hockey. The athlete learns self-discipline, endurance, and the importance of teamwork and getting along with others.

Tremendous success was enjoyed by the cross country team, football team, and girls soccer, and the girls basketball team is headed toward a great year also. The hard work all SHS teams do is a credit to the school, and may all future teams enjoy as much or greater success.

The team is down 76-3 with four minutes left in the game. The fans are beginning to leave the stadium, but do the band, bandfront, and cheerleaders give up? No way! These groups are largely responsible for the spirit that is not always apparent at SHS games. But it is not only during the game that the band and bandfront excell. SHS is lucky to have a marching band and bandfront as talented as ours is. Led by Keith Berry, the band director; Lynn Sileo, silk advisor; Kathy Dowler, rifle advisor; Pat Tarfano, swing flag advisor; and Bob Rush, drum advisor, the band has developed into one of the state's finest groups, as they have won many competitions held in New England, New Jersey, and Florida. The cheerleaders are responsible for the psyching up of the crowds and the team.

This year the girls soccer team enjoyed exceptional success under the guidance of coach Joanne Wallace and captains Sinda Recor and Beth Morelli. The girls won the Southern Division and had an excellent record of 14-2. The team outplayed most of their opponents and outscored the other teams 107-15. The team made it to the playoffs, and despite being defeated still gave an excellent performance. In regular season play, they outclassed their opponents totally and ended up with scores like 13-0 against Bristol Central and 12-0 against Bulkeley. Congratulations to a fine team!

The boys soccer team started off slowly, but their season soon gained much momentum. This year was a developing year for the team, as Coach Dan Murawski only had three seniors, captains Nello Picone, Greg Scruton, and John Zavisza. The team did well as they finished the regular season with a record of 8-6-2, which was good enough for the team to play in the state tournament. Their season peaked in the tournament with their 3-0 win over Fitch. Although they lost their next game, the team had a lot of enthusiasm and spirit, and next year is promising for the returning players.

The talent of runners such as Rick Black, whose individual statistics include many school records and participation in the Kinney Invitational in San Diego, and the leadership of captains Tim Theriault and Marty Burns were factors in this year's success, but the main element was the leadership and initiative of coach Wayne Nakoneczny. This year was a transitional time for the girls swim team as they acquired a new coach, Miss O'Keefe. The team was relatively young as only three seniors, captains Roxanne Shatas and Jeannie Ferguson and teammate Laura Sadowski were a part of the team. The team had a hard time adjusting to the discipline needed on the team, and a lack of pool time intensified this problem. Despite these difficulties, the team did break the .500 mark, and the remaining swimmers look forward to next year's season after viewing this year as a building year.

G RIDDERS END RIVALRY

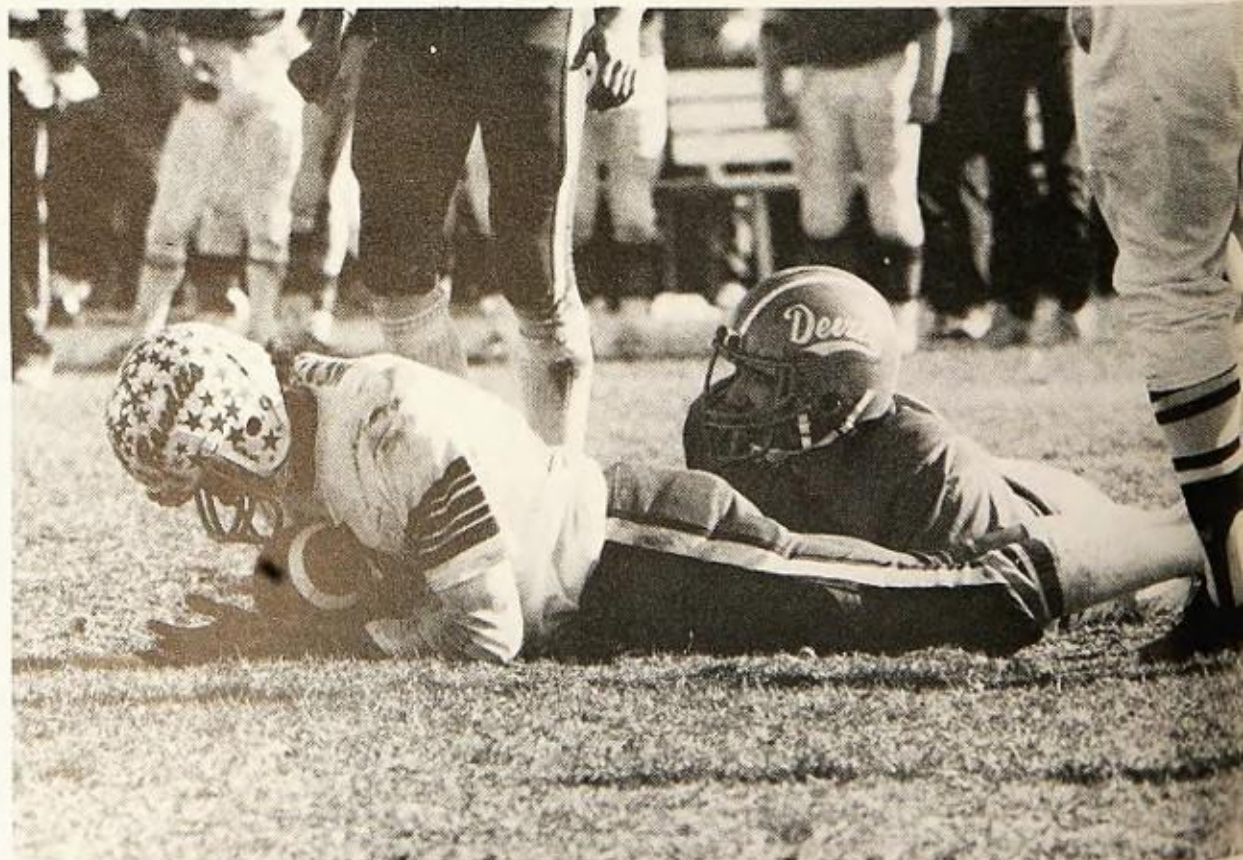

Mommy...

The floats with their gleeful display have already traversed the field, the band has built up excitement, and the smell of hot-dogs and cocoa has completed the atmosphere. A thundering of applause and cheers explodes from the spectators as the kickoff begins the game and the ball soars into the crisp air. The familiar scene is of the annual Thanksgiving football game between Plainville and Southington. The tradition of the game started back in the late 1920's. Of all the surrounding areas, the Southington/Plainville rivalry has the longest history and the most memories.

How to get your way with cleats.

Wait, I didn't even say hike yet!!

Remember, Mike, that's two hot dogs with mustard and relish.

Where are the refs when you need them?

Hurry up and take the picture! I have to run this ball back!

Oh no! Three SHS defenders! I hope I have some Ben-Gay left!

Dom D'Angelo, coach of the Southington football team describes this particular game as the "Biggest event of the year!"

The traditional game is not merely a football game, but, also, "a gathering of people", as Coach Dom terms it. Past friends meet up with old buddies, former football players reminisce about past games they played against the rival Plainville. The social aura surrounds the thousands of fans who show for the excitement of the game.

This year, however, on January 2, it was announced that the traditional Southington/Plainville Thanksgiving game would be canceled. The reason for the break was Plainville's continual defeat, although many people from Plainville did not want the change. For all it is a tremendous disappointment in the broken rivalry. Coach Dom believes it is "not going to be the same." As for the Southington football team, they are being optimistic. Matt Rossi, one of the captains, says "I guess we'll just have to start a new rivalry."

Who will each team play next? Well, next year on Thanksgiving Day Plainville will meet St. Paul High and Southington will challenge New Britain. Tradition, at any time is hard to break and can bring on disappointment. Thanksgiving will never be the same in either Plainville or Southington. Perhaps it will be better.

GIRLS BASKETBALL IS AWESOME

The girls basketball team is having a phenomenal season so far this year. The girls have yet to be defeated, and their only problem so far appears to be finding worthy opponents, as the team consistently scores an average of 34 points over their competition. Led by co-captains Linda Lee and Rose Micacci, who are the two top scorers in respective order, the hoopsters are averaging 69 points a game, and have been ranked number one or two for the entire season. Congratulations to this excellent team, and may they enjoy continued success in the future.

BOYS BASKETBALL IMPROVING

Get your own ball, man!!

Thus far in this year the boys basketball team has had a lackluster season as they have won only two games and lost ten. Despite this disappointing record the team remains optimistic and, says coach Richard Lorenzo, the boys are improving with each game. Coach Lorenzo is in his first season here at SHS after taking over from Coach Nardi. The team is led by co-captains Mike Majeski and Pete Meade, who are the only returning varsity players from last year, and their leadership has helped Coach Lorenzo much this year. The team is working hard and improving in all phases of the game, and much success is wished for the team.

The girls gymnastics team had a fine season this year. The girls worked very hard and their dedication paid off as the girls scored very highly and they had some of their best performances in competition. By their great effort and teamwork the girls managed to score their highest team total in Southington High history against Hall High this season. The team compiled a score of 126.3, which broke the previous record of 124 which was set last year against Newington. Leading the team this year are co-captains Cindy Bill and Jackie Naranjo along with teammate Jana Wong. These girls have been instrumental in the team's victories because of their leadership and consistent performances. Good luck to next year's team, and may they have much success in the future.

WIM TEAM'S EFFORT VALIANT

despite the teams losing record and lack of experience

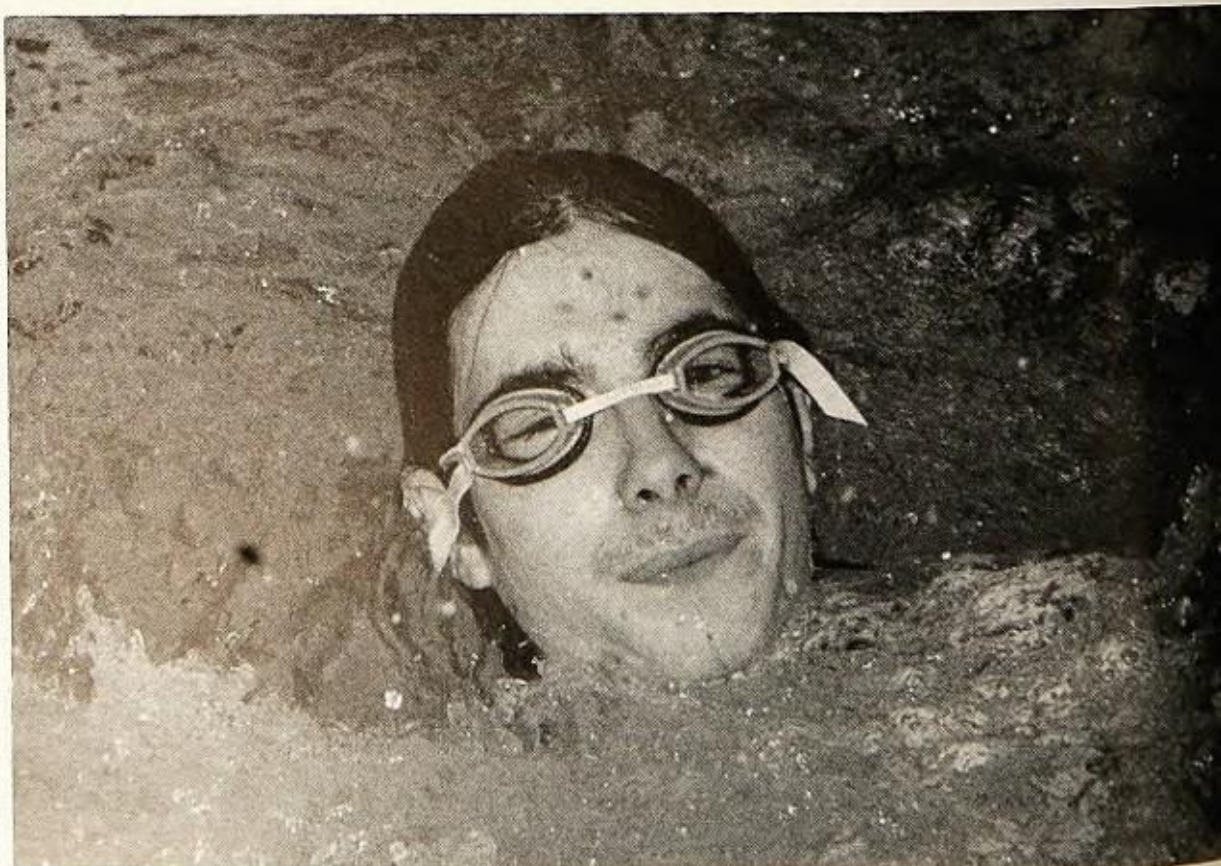

No pictures please!

Southington High School's Boy's Swimming team made a valiant effort during the swim season as they were contenders in very close meets. Their final record was 0 for 12 but many of the games were full of heated contest. Jeff

Lee, captain of the team, gave the team impetus and helped it grow into prominence in the school. The various events in a swimming match are taxing on the swimmer and demand great physical endurance on the part of the entrant. The experience from this year will add greatly to future swim teams and help achieve a more competitive attitude on the parts of the swimmers.

containing town and country closeups

To many the advertising section of the yearbook seems to be the least interesting. On the contrary to most opinions, however, the advertising section plays a very important role of providing funding for various expenses incurred. Each of the advertisements is contributed by local shops that students throughout their years at S.H.S. have at many times frequented. The shop owners, in this way, are congratulating the graduating class and wishing them the best of luck.

This years section is special, though, for it contains town and country close-ups. These articles reflect on events that have had an impact on our lives in 1984-1985.

Hershey Park take over of Lake Compounce — A new beginning

During 1985 Hershey Entertainment and Resort Company (H.E.R.C.O.) has finalized its take over of the 137 year old Lake Compounce Amusement Park which lies on the border of Bristol and Southington. Lake Compounce had been owned and run by the Norton family for many years. The Nortons sold because the family interest in park operations were lagging and the park was declining. One thing pleased the Nortons — H.E.R.C.O. is intending to maintain Lake Compounce as a "family" park.

The first priority of H.E.R.C.O. will be the historic restoration of the existing monuments. The park's theme will follow its original Victorian designs with only a few innovations. Such landmarks as the roller-coaster and the carousel, which are on the National Historic Register and considered to be the second oldest in the nation, will be preserved and restored. 1985 will see the park's restoration. "The park's potential is in its heritage" says H.E.R.C.O., therefore Lake Compounce's sale shall not ruin its historic value.

We're passing it on to Southington

at Southington Savings Bank

We're excited - excited because of what we see around us. The growth in Southington that's come partially as a result from our passing on your savings in the form of loans. There's no doubt that we as a country have been on a rocky road of late. A road which has been closed to some who would buy their first home because of high interest rates. But the road blocks are disappearing. We at Southington Savings Bank sense a turnaround of public spirit and a positive attitude towards where we're going.

Here in Southington we have a lot to be thankful for. We have good schools, hospitals, churches, shops and shopkeepers, tireless volunteers working for a paycheck of satisfaction and self accomplishment and unsung heroes around every Southington street corner. They're your neighbors, your family, your friends.

These are the people that are "passing it on". Passing on the Southington spirit of community. And we're proud - no we're "Southington proud" of having been a part of it since 1860...being there when you need us. But we're not so bold as to say that it's only us that have helped you. You've helped us by placing your faith (and your hard-earned cash) in our bank!

Whether you know it or not, your account helps us to keep passing on valuable financial resources to the community, making all of us stronger for it.

The role of a home town bank has been an important one throughout America's history. It's meant that some communities have forged ahead because of deep seated mutual beliefs in each other.

We're comfortable with that role and we're committed to playing it for a long time to come. So, if you like the idea of helping one another, why not open an account with us today. And pass it on.

School Boards continual concern over declining S.A.T. scores

With the school year comes the expected School Board's concern over declining Scholastic Aptitude Test scores. Southington's scores dropped below state average and the School Board became anxious to combat the falling scores. They asked for a statistic sheet from Princeton University to indicate in which area Southington students should concentrate. Some began to question the "seriousness" of the students taking the S.A.T. who are undecided about their future after high school (the majority of the students). Many think this lack of seriousness may be the reason for the scores' decline. Princeton, though, refused to supply the requested information to a local school system.

Despite talk of declining scores many students today are on par with those of a decade ago. According to statistics the top 50% of the last graduating class scored 14 points higher in math than the top 50% of the graduating class ten years before. Even though the verbal was 12 points lower the deviation was minor. Therefore, community scores over the past ten years have stayed relatively at the same average. Many believe that curriculum and "sound" teaching will have a big effect on the S.A.T. scores.

Drinking Age Bill May Affect S.H.S. Students

This past year, President Reagan signed a bill that may have a great effect upon the students of S.H.S. in the future. Becoming frustrated at the varying state drinking ages, President Reagan signed a bill which may be taken as an ultimatum to the states: either raise the legal drinking age to 21 or face a cut off of federal highway funds.

Reagan praised the national movement to raise and standardize the drinking age. Drinking plus driving leads to disaster and the President said "people in the 18-21 age group are more likely to be in alcohol-related accidents than any other age group."

The signing of the bill was a culmination of a year of anti-drunk driving groups' pressure. The bill that was approved by Congress would penalize states that failed to raise the minimum drinking age to 21 and reward those which did. Some, though, did believe it was coercive. However, the aim of the law was to save lives.

Apple Harvest Festival Is Southington's Traditional Extravaganza

The Apple Harvest Festival is a proud Southington tradition — Connecticut's Little Apple. This year's extravaganza held a multitude of events from opening ceremonies and concerts and local entertainers to shows such as The Young People's Talent Show and the traditional Pancake Breakfast. None will forget the excitement of the bed races or the crowd at the parade!

Besides the parade and the bed races, the biggest draws were the craft show weekend displaying every imaginable hand-made craft. And who could forget the apple fritters! The Apple Harvest Festival draws people from the entire state and is eagerly anticipated all year long.

Dear Bob and Nan,

We would like to thank you for all of your time, patience, understanding, and love through the past few years. We deeply appreciate all of your devotion to our class and our school. You are two very special people whom we love very much.

Thanks for guiding us over the years and helping us out with our problems.
